County WPA to Cut 300 Men From Relief List

CITY HALL IS GUARDED BY OFFICIALS

Mayor, Three Others Burned In Effigy; Call Extra Police

SLASH IS DUE BY TUESDAY, SAYS CHIEF

Job Refusers Will Be Ousted, Declares Dan Mulhaddon

Plans for a big slash in relief rolls of the Works Progress administration were announced today by Dan Mulhaddon, Orange County WPA head.

The cut will come on or before next Tuesday and will affect approximately 300 men.

At the same time Mr. Mulhaddon said today there will be no problem about agricultural labor this year, as far as the WPA is concerned. Every man who is offered a job and refuses to take it will be dropped from WPA rolls, he warned. Last May there was a shortage of beet thinners. After the beet harvest was over, the State Emergency Relief administration adopted a similar policy.

"Work, or Else—"

"There will be no question about it this year," said Mr. Mulhaddon. "If a man is offered a job and doesn't take it, he's through here. That doesn't mean we are going to be cruel about it, or that we will make a man take a job which he is plainly unable to handle. But it does mean that able men cannot remain on our payroll if they refuse to take jobs."

The dropping of 300 men March 10 is in accordance with an order from the federal WPA headquarters, and similar orders will go into effect throughout the nation. The case load here must be pared to 2000. Mr. Mulhaddon said. About 250 of the 300 to be dropped are single, unattached men and will be sent to the Orange and Silverado transient camps.

Await Allotment

Mr. Mulhaddon said he expects farm jobs to provide for any not taken care of otherwise. Yesterday he received an order for 20 beet thinners from the Los Alamitos sugar factory.

In the meantime the WPA is awaiting its allotment to cover the period from March 15 to June 30. This is expected daily, and probably will amount to about $971,000 on the basis of present estimates.

Auditor Harry G. Wetherell said today the local WPA has an unencumbered balance of $231,511.17 to carry it through to the next period. This sum will be ample, he said.

Santa Ana Faces 4 Morals Charges

D. C. Shirley, 2827 North Main street, Santa Ana, was to be arraigned this afternoon in superior court on two statutory charges and two charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was arrested on Feb. 17 on information filed by his wife, who operates a state-certified boarding home at the Santa Ana address.

Mrs. Shirley in her complaint said her husband had on separate occasions committed statutory offenses against a 14-year-old girl and a 15-year-old girl living in her boarding house. Mr. Shirley today engaged N. D. Meyers to act as his attorney, after Judge James L. Allen had refused to appoint an attorney on the grounds that the defendant had funds with which he could hire one.

WASHINGTON, March 6. (AP)—A charge of treason—rare in United States history and carrying a maximum penalty of death—today threatened Pedro Albizu Campos, who calls himself president of the Puerto Rican republic.

The alleged chief of a move to overthrow the government of the United States in the island, now is free under bond with six compan-

You Couldn't Cash a Check 3 Years Ago Today for Love or Money, Especially Money

By ROCH BRADSHAW

Three years ago today you couldn't cash a check for love or money—especially money.

It so happened at about that time no one was particularly worried about love, probably because worry about money kept people from thinking about more important things.

All the bankers went down to work three years ago today and then remembered that the banks were closed. But they went in just the same and answered phone calls, telling people that they weren't cashing checks that day, and didn't they hear President Roosevelt close all the banks the night before in a radio talk?

Three years ago today you didn't have much money, and probably didn't know where to get any.

It was the first day of the bank holiday declared by President Roosevelt. The banks had lots of money but they didn't pass much of it out. Up in Los Angeles some bankers got together and printed a lot of money called scrip; but they held onto that, too, so it didn't do much good. Later they put it in armored government trucks and took it out and burned it.

The bank holiday lasted 10 days, and Fred Crowell, of the Santa Ana Security First National bank of Los Angeles, remarked yesterday that living through that 10-day "holiday" was the hardest work he ever did in his life. He went to "work" with the other bankers every morning. He sat around reading the newspapers.

President Says Budget For Dole Unfixed As Probe Demanded

Senate Military Group Decides Not To Probe General's Ousting

WASHINGTON, March 6. (AP)—President Roosevelt said today there would be at least one more conference on next year's relief problem before any decision would be reached on the amount of money he will ask congress to appropriate.

He made this reply to press conference questions, as a Democrat urged a $1,000,000,000 limit on the new appropriation and a Republican demanded a nation-wide inquiry into charges of political "exploitation of human misery."

The President told newspapermen he was continuing his studies of federal expenditures, but could not announce any absolute figure on savings. He said he and his fiscal aides were getting close to the bottom of the barrel in scraping for funds to complete this year's relief program.

At his last press conference the chief executive said he expected to submit his relief estimate to congress sometime between March 10 and March 19.

There have been reports that this sum might be $2,000,000,000 or more, or less. But Chairman Buchanan (D., Tex.) of the house appropriations committee stood pat on his contention that congress should not grant "anything like $2,000,000,000."

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) asked a wide investigation of reports that politicians collect campaign funds from workers on relief.

Owner of Ventura Oil Field Dies

SANTA BARBARA, March 6. (AP)—Mrs. Alice Crubb, 81, owner of the San Miguelito oil field at Rincon, just west of Ventura, died in a hospital here this morning.

She spent most of her life in Ventura, although for the last few years she had lived in Carpinteria, near Santa Barbara. The oil field, leased to the Continental Oil Company, is regarded as one of the richest petroleum deposits in Ventura county.

WASHINGTON, March 6. (AP)—Dispatches indicated they were accused of inciting to insurrection and other offenses but had not yet been formally charged with treason.)

Albizu is not only opposed to United States sovereignty over Puerto Rico, said Ickes, "but believes, and has tried to make his followers believe, that Puerto Rico is an independent country."

In San Juan, Puerto Rico, the national guard, mobilized and held in armories during the last 24 hours, was demobilized, authorities believing that the danger of disorders following arrest of nationalist leaders was past.

JAPAN ARMY DISRUPTS CABINET

Powerful Militarists Now Threaten To Wreck New Ministry

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

TOKYO, March 6. (AP)—Koki Hirota's hopes of introducing a new national cabinet to Emperor Hirohito immediately disappeared today when the army arose to demonstrate that it was still politically powerful enough to wreck any efforts to form a ministry.

Because high militarists disliked some of Hirota's liberal nominations, they influenced Count Juichi Terauchi, proposed as war minister, to withdraw from the cabinet.

Another possible cause for the change, he said, is the general movement of population toward the cities, which has been noted in recent years. The Orange county decline is a condition reflected throughout the state, however.

Average daily attendance in the entire state in 1931-1932 was 634,014, whereas last year it was 673,012.

While some authorities have expressed the opinion that the drop may be an indication of a decline in the birth rate, Mr. Adkinson said he believes it is too soon after the depression for this factor to affect school attendance materially.

Figures Revealed

Orange county's average daily attendance in elementary schools was 17,672 in 1931-1932. The next year it was 17,275—a decrease of 397. In the following year attendance was 16,724, a further drop of 551. Last year the figure was 16,286, a decrease of 438.

In the two years prior to 1931-1932, school attendance had been on the increase. Total average daily attendance in the county in 1929-1930 was 17,298. The next year it increased to 17,475, while in the following year it rose to 17,672.

Mr. Adkinson said, however, that he expects an increase to be shown this year. Some districts along the coast are asking for more teachers, he reported.

High Schools Increase

In the high schools of the county, attendance kept going up until it reached its peak last year, said Mr. Adkinson. Indications were seen that a decline would be felt this year, however. Last year's junior classes in a number of schools were smaller than the graduating classes, forecasting fewer graduates this year.

Support for the theory that the earthquake caused the greater part of the drop in this county is seen in figures for Riverside county, where the earthquake was not of major importance. There attendance has climbed steadily from 11,022 in 1929-1930, to 12,734 in 1934-1935. San Diego county attendance increased until 1933-1934 when a very slight drop was reported. It rebounded again last year. Ventura county has shown a steady gain. Except for a slight drop in 1933-1934, San Bernardino county also has shown a gradual increase.

Disorders Feared

The governor of the Tokyo stock exchange, which has been closed since the militarist insurrection broke out Feb. 26, announced the exchange would reopen tomorrow, but with political clouds gathering again, he withdrew the announcement.

That great tension persisted in government circles, with fears of further violence against distinguished leaders of the empire, was indicated by the scores of gentlemen and police guarding the official residence of the foreign minister.

HUGE LOSS IN STUDENTS IS NOTED HERE

County Schools Chief Says Quake Caused Many Removals

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

Orange county elementary school attendance has dropped 1936 since the school year of 1931-1932.

This striking drop was revealed today in the March issue of the Tax Digest.

County School Superintendent Ray Adkinson, in commenting on the decrease, said he was inclined to believe the greater portion of the drop was the result of the severe earthquake here on March 10, 1933. He explained that the sharp decline began after that event, and probably was the result of families moving to other localities.

Cites Another Cause

Another possible cause for the change, he said, is the general movement of population toward the cities, which has been noted in recent years. The Orange county decline is a condition reflected throughout the state, however.

Average daily attendance in the entire state in 1931-1932 was 634,014, whereas last year it was 673,012.

Students Stage Protest Strike

G. B. ANGERED AT BOMBING

Attack By Italians On British Red Cross Brings Protest

LONDON, March 6. (AP)—The British government today instructed its ambassador to Rome, Sir Eric Drummond, to protest to Italy against the bombing of a British Red Cross unit in Ethiopia.

Sir Eric was ordered to ask the Italian government to make an immediate investigation of the affair and to instruct its military command to see to it that nothing of the sort occurred again.

The decision to take this step was reached at a long conference between Anthony Eden, foreign secretary, and Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin.

Official quarters were plainly indignant at the bombing in which a Red Cross identification flag spread out on the ground was hit, according to official British sources.

The ambulance unit, near Quorom, was bombed at noon Wednesday by an airplane which repeatedly flew low and dropped about 40 bombs.

Three hospital ward tents, the operating and sterilizing tents, and one truck were destroyed. Three patients were killed and several wounded.

PROTEST ALSO MADE TO THE LEAGUE

GENEVA, March 6. (AP)—A bombing of a British ambulance station near Quorom, on the north-eastern front, was protested vigorously to the League of Nations today in a telegram from Ethiopian Foreign Minister Bellatene Gueta Herouy at Addis Ababa.

Santa Fe Chief Tells Bus Stand

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—Samuel T. Bledsoe, president of the Santa Fe railroad system, testified today that for the past five years he has favored his company's entry into the automobile bus transportation field.

He was a witness for the second day at a state railroad commission hearing to settle a fight of transportation companies for California's intrastate traffic.

Bledsoe brushed aside a question as to whether bus lines, which had "pioneered in California," deserved protection from competition such as the Santa Fe proposed.

N. Y. WALKOUT IS EXTENDED

Hotel Workers Called Out As Strike Area Is Broadened

NEW YORK, March 6. (AP)—Hotel workers were called away from their jobs today in support of the building employees' strike which strike leaders prepared to extend to Manhattan's important central zone, Brooklyn and Queens before tonight.

The action came shortly after Chris Houlihan, president of the hotel workers union, left his offices with the announcement that he would "pull" the hotels.

The "general strike" threat voiced earlier in the week by James J. Bambrick, head of the building service employees union, received a measure of support from Paul N. Coulcher, secretary-treasurer of the hotel and restaurant employees union.

Coulcher announced that 5000 kitchen and dining room workers in 100 hotels would join the picket lines of the striking workers.

With the strike spreading, the police department continued extraordinary precautions to protect property and citizens in the event of violence.

10,395 Buildings Affected

More than 100 policemen were dispatched to Harlem and Washington Heights, sections to which the walkout spread yesterday following a break down in peace parades.

The union claimed that of 10,395 buildings affected, agreements had been signed with 1448. Police reported that the number of buildings affected was 1820, and that agreements had been signed with 115 of these. Attempts to arbitrate the strike remained deadlocked.

Refuses Teaching Job

Elmer A. Sorensen, appointed superintendent to succeed Paden, ordered the latter to take a teaching job but Paden refused, saying his contract as superintendent had not expired.

From various sources today came demands for a grand jury investigation. The move to recall the mayor and two councilmen responsible for the ousting of Paden was instituted at a mass meeting last night. Strikers estimated 10,000 were at the meeting.

Non-Stop World Flight Hinted

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—Speculation on whether Clyde Pangborn, trans-Pacific flier, is planning to make a non-stop flight around the world in a "flying wing" stirred aviation circles today.

Pangborn left for New York yesterday after inspecting a bat-like plane developed by the Chire Vance and tied up in litigation since 1933. Pangborn declined to comment on the globe-flight reports.

LIFE - TIME JOBS WIN FAVOR

Public Employees Want 'Em

A considerable sentiment in favor of the proposed county civil service measure which would make permanent the positions of a large group of office holders and deputies was reflected at the courthouse today. While there are some department heads and employees who do not favor the proposal, there is a strong sentiment for the proposition.

Adoption of the civil service system would mean that certain elective officers would not have to stand for re-election and would have permanent positions, provided they have been in office continuously for one year on Nov. 3, 1936. The bill, to be voted upon at the November election, provides that such officers and employees could not be removed except for cause, or after a showing of inefficiency at a public hearing.

An organization called the California Federation of Civil Service associations has sent letters to office holders and employees suggesting that 15 per cent of the monthly salary be contributed to a campaign fund to place the proposition on the November ballot.

While there is considerable support for the project here, county office holders said they were not urging their employees to contribute to the fund, or bringing any pressure to bear on them.

At a recent meeting of county employees the matter was discussed but no action was taken, the group (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

DEBATE LOOMS OVER SUGGESTED NEW SOURCES OF TAX REVENUES

SEVEN POINTS LISTED FOR SCRUTINY

Treasury Completes Its Recommendations To House Committee

WASHINGTON, March 6. (AP)—Indications that the treasury has completed presentation of possible major methods of raising money emerged today from a session of a house ways and means taxation sub-committee.

Chairman Samuel B. Hill (D. Wash.) told reporters after the meeting "we just rehearsed what we have gone over before." While indicating attention centered today on a tax on undistributed corporation earnings, Hill said no discussion was given to permitting corporations to build up a "cushion" of reserves which would be tax exempt or assessed at a low rate.

New Sources Listed
It appeared the subcommittee sessions were about to resolve themselves into debate over relative merits or demerits of money sources already suggested by treasury officials.

These included:
1. A graduated tax, averaging 33 1/2 per cent, on undistributed net income of corporations.
2. A general manufacturers' excise tax.

3. Revised income taxes with lower exemptions and higher rates.
4. Processing taxes on farm and competing commodities.

5. A "windfall" tax to bring back government revenue lost by return or non-payment of processing taxes.
6. A one-third increase in present tobacco taxes.

7. Lower exemptions for admission taxes.
President Roosevelt has suggested the corporation, windfall and processing levies.

Not This Session
The other proposals were submitted at the request of the subcommittee in order to give it a well rounded view of all possible means of augmenting the government's income.

Speaker Byrns said at his press conference he did not anticipate any general tax revision this session.

"I hope not," he said on questioning. "That takes months, and we haven't time, of course, unless we want to stay here until next September."

WAS HARRISON'S FACE RED!

Gag Pulled On Lions Chief

A nervous woman stood at the head of the stairs leading into the banquet room of the James club where the Santa Ana Lions club was holding its noon meeting yesterday.

"Is Dr. Carpenter here? Please tell me, is Dr. Carpenter here?" she asked.

The young woman looked as though she were on the verge of tears.

Andy Anderson, program chairman, told her there was no one by that name in the club. There were other doctors, though, he said. Maybe they could help.

"I want Dr. Carpenter," the nervous young woman insisted. "You see, it's an emergency. He was supposed to marry me. There he is now."

The young woman rushed over and threw her arms around C. W. Harrison, president of the club. When she was told that Mr. Harrison didn't have a dime in the world, she threw up her hands in disgust and swore she had been deceived.

It was all a gag, however. The nervous young woman who so startled club members was Miss Alice Joy, "hobo reporter" from Boston, Mass. For several minutes she discussed former visits to Santa Ana, and jokingly implicated Sheriff Logan Jackson, Earl Abbey, Dr. Lawrence Cameron and Frank West in relating past experiences. Her address to the club centered around her experiences in "bumming her way" to Hollywood from Boston. At present she is a resident of Hollywood.

Farmers Warned On Control Plan

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 6. (AP)—Renewing his warning to the nation's farmers that production control as such can not be effected under the soil conservation program, Secretary Wallace today said "we don't want this new act imperiled" by the supreme court.

Wallace, admitting that he was speaking "very broadly," told more than 500 delegates to a regional farm conference the AAA probably would seek to divert 11,000,000 acres from cotton to soil conserving growths this year.

The suit of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jordan, San Juan Capistrano, against Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stoffel, to quiet title to a 40-foot roadway adjoining ranch property purchased by the plaintiffs from the defendants, was set over today until March 16, by Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

Assassin Misses U. S. Minister

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, March 6. (AP)—An assassin, firing wildly at Premier Milan Stoyadinovich, narrowly missed shooting Charles S. Wilson, United States minister to Yugoslavia today.

Wilson was sitting in the diplomatic gallery of the chamber of deputies when a deputy of the opposition party suddenly jerked a pistol from his pocket and started firing at the premier.

Other deputies seized him and the first shot plugged into the wall just over the heads of the diplomats. The remaining three shots went into the floor.

Wilson remained in his seat and watched the struggle. The assassin was Damian Armandovich. He was taken into custody by gendarmes.

$18,000,000 Profit By Doherty Cited

WASHINGTON, March 6. (AP)—Testimony that Henry L. Doherty, head of the Cities Service company, made a profit of $18,000,000 by selling 200,000 shares of company securities in March, 1929, was received today by the senate lobby committee.

The sale began, testimony showed, just before employees of the system were "invited" to buy the company's securities on the installment plan. Robert Burns, Cities Service counsel, was the witness. He said the sale was made at the importunities of Doherty's associates that his holdings be made "liquid" in the event of his death, explaining the utility leader "had been so ill since 1928 that his life had 'been despaired of.'"

Riley Tells Why Taxes Are High

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—A reduction in state taxes is impossible "unless there is a substantial change in public opinion regarding the necessity for supplemental governmental service," State Controller Ray Riley told delegates to the California Taxpayers' association today.

He said the state, cities and counties of California spent $260,000,000 in 1929 and $806,000,000 in 1930, and added that only "the severest depression in history" kept the tax bills at approximately the 1930 level during the next four years.

PLAN DISCUSSED TO SUPPLY FARM WORKERS FROM WPA

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—A tentative plan of cooperation between the state relief administration and agriculturists to supply farm labor needs was made yesterday at a conference of relief officials, growers and federal employment representatives.

Under the plan, county farm agents will receive requests from farmers, determine the number of workers required and report to the relief administration.

"When the need for agricultural labor develops, we will furnish them men, and if the demand is great enough we will close down our projects," said Frank M. McLaughlin, state WPA chief.

C. E. Weeks, Contra Costa county agriculturist, criticized the effect of relief on the farm labor situation.

HISTORIANS TO SEE MUSEUM

The first of a series of Saturday afternoon meetings of the Orange County Historical society will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Bowers Memorial museum. Members of the organization will be given the opportunity tomorrow to become acquainted with the museum, first through a series of talks covering some of the feature exhibits in the museum and then through a specially arranged tour.

Mrs. F. E. Coulter, curator at the museum, has arranged for an address to be given March 14 by H. P. Webb, Los Angeles photographer, whose California mission pictures are now on display at the museum. Members of the society will be given a preview of the exhibit tomorrow.

Three short lectures, centering around museum work, will constitute a part of the program tomorrow. Mrs. Coulter will talk on the plan and purpose of the museum and discuss some of the exhibits. John Winterbourne, archeologist, is to talk on the Indian exhibits, and T. E. Stephenson, chairman of the museum board, will lecture on the historical background of some of the families whose exhibits are on display at the museum.

Parr Re-Trial Date March 25

Richard Parr, 22-year-old tire company employee of Santa Ana, will face charges of negligent homicide for the second time March 25, in superior court.

Date for the re-trial was set today by Superior Judge James L. Allen, despite protests of Mr. Parr's attorney, J. B. Tucker, who wished the date set on about May 1, for fear Mr. Parr would lose his job.

His first trial on the charges ended last week in a hung jury, which deliberated 23 hours without reaching a decision.

The charges grew out of an automobile accident last Dec. 15 near Costa Mesa in which Winston Walker, Santa Ana, and Miss Frances West, Newport High school teacher, lost their lives. Mr. Parr was the driver of the automobile which collided with the Walker car.

Deputy District Attorneys James L. Davis and James E. Walker will prosecute the case. Conviction carries a maximum sentence of three years.

'Red' Speaker On Radio Picketed

NEW YORK, March 6. (AP)—A storm of protest today enveloped the granting of free nationwide radio time last night to the Communist party of America for a discussion of political problems.

Earl Browder, secretary of the party, was picketed by 100 flag bearing persons and snubbed by a New England network.

Browder was offered the facilities as part of the broadcasting company's program of sponsoring discussion by all recognized political parties. Pickets bore placards reading: "Democracy Guaranteed. Free Speech. Communism Denies It."

desiring to secure more information about the proposition. It is understood, however, that a number of individual employees are planning to make the 15 per cent contribution.

The letter from the organization suggesting these contributions explained that attorneys, physicians and employees earning less than $500 a year are exempted. The plan would extend state civil service to all but a few city, township and county offices. The district attorney's office, the assessor's office, members of the board of supervisors, and judges would not be affected.

Certain cities and counties are now operating under civil service. The proposition to be voted on at the November election has been approved by the county tax collectors, auditors and clerks' associations.

Meningitis Kills 32; Quarantine On

HARLAN, Ky., March 6. (AP)—A tight quarantine was clamped down on disease-ridden Harlan county today as state and county health authorities fought to check the rampant spread of spinal meningitis, 90 cases of which have caused 32 deaths.

The quarantine order was issued after the Harlan County Medical Association voted to ban church services, close theaters and other amusement centers and prohibit public meetings. Upon the recommendation of Dr. F. W. Cakdill, state epidemiologist, who said children were "better off there than anywhere else," schools were not included in the quarantine.

Turf Agency May Pay Off Saturday

The Continental Turf Agency probably will re-open its doors tomorrow, to pay off debts outstanding, members of the agency personnel said today. The district attorney's office yesterday issued an official statement in which it said that such a procedure would be legal as regards bets on the Santa Anita track, but that those holding tickets on tracks outside the state would enter into negotiations concerning them at "their own risk."

Seven members of the staff of the betting agency are facing trial on 13 charges of violations of the penal code with reference to betting and the making of pools. Their preliminary hearing is set for March 9.

Meningitis Kills 32; Quarantine On

HARLAN, Ky., March 6. (AP)—A tight quarantine was clamped down on disease-ridden Harlan county today as state and county health authorities fought to check the rampant spread of spinal meningitis, 90 cases of which have caused 32 deaths.

The quarantine order was issued after the Harlan County Medical Association voted to ban church services, close theaters and other amusement centers and prohibit public meetings. Upon the recommendation of Dr. F. W. Cakdill, state epidemiologist, who said children were "better off there than anywhere else," schools were not included in the quarantine.

Santa Monica Dog Driver 'Dog-goned' At His Arrest

SANTA MONICA, March 6. (AP)—Carl Lindauer, "mushing" over the highway in a wagon drawn by his dogs, was arrested in Santa Monica for alleged drunk driving.

He was en route to a film studio to appear in a picture. "I'll be dog-goned!" he exclaimed.

PLAN DISCUSSED TO SUPPLY FARM WORKERS FROM WPA

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—A tentative plan of cooperation between the state relief administration and agriculturists to supply farm labor needs was made yesterday at a conference of relief officials, growers and federal employment representatives.

Under the plan, county farm agents will receive requests from farmers, determine the number of workers required and report to the relief administration.

"When the need for agricultural labor develops, we will furnish them men, and if the demand is great enough we will close down our projects," said Frank M. McLaughlin, state WPA chief.

C. E. Weeks, Contra Costa county agriculturist, criticized the effect of relief on the farm labor situation.

The Journal's Compilation of Orange County People You Should Know.

Name: Mrs. Eugene Robinson.
Occupation: Housewife.
Home address: 1802 Spurgeon street.
When and where were you born? Toledo, Ohio.

What has been the most interesting event in your life to date? My war service in Washington when I was a stenographer in the adjutant-general's office.

What form of recreation do you enjoy most? Horseback riding and good shows.

What career would you recommend for a young man starting out for himself today? Something specialized. Nursing for girls.

If you were editor of the Journal, what one change would you make in the paper? Discontinue Skinny Skirvin's column.

What do you like least in the Journal? Comic strip.

What do you like best in the Journal? Teapot Tattle and editorials.

What bit of world news has interested you most in recent weeks? Italian-Ethiopian conflict.

What local news in the Journal has interested you most recently? Book pile.

What one thing does Santa Ana need most? Peace-maker in religious, political and educational matters.

How can Orange county be improved? One such as is.

One-sentence interview: The minority that opposed Lewis Browne was a blot on the reputation of Santa Ana. It's unfortunate that the city couldn't hear a man of his experience and education without being narrow about it.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

RECEIVED a first-hand introduction to the Imperial highway yesterday, with George Kellogg, Yorba Linda, long-time booster for the road, doing the honors. George, it seems, has been interested in the highway since residents of El Segundo and Lynwood and such towns started a move for a through road to somewhere or other. At first the actual end of the boulevard, which was to start in El Segundo, was uncertain. Some thought it'd be a good idea to run it clear over to Orange county. Others, more optimistic, argued why not Carbon canyon? But, George and some other county boosters suggested that it'd be a good idea for the proposed road to arrive in Yorba Linda. That seemed to be a good idea at the time, and, apparently, it still is.

Now, all members of the Imperial Highway association are working toward completing a 100-foot highway from El Segundo to El Centro. These things grow, don't they?

If you're tired of the Imperial highway already, you might as well stop reading, because we're just getting started telling about that famous road.

We started off by telling of our introduction to the thoroughfare. Left Yorba Linda at 9 o'clock and snooped along through Santa Ana canyon, where the road will eventually join the highway through the canyon, a few miles below Prado.

Before that we'd heard of extensive improvements in communities from the sea toward Yorba Linda—the highway's almost finished through to that community, with only a couple of vacant spots, and they're being filled in rapidly.

Anyway, the road goes on through the canyon to Corona. From there past Glen Ivy, then to Elsinore and from there south to Murietta and Temecula. At Temecula it branches nearly due east to Aguanga, which is an old Indian word meaning "pass the potatoes," or something like that. And from there to Oak Grove and finally to Warner's Hot Springs.

We've hurried over the first part of the highway to the hot springs, because that's where the trip really started.

After lunch at Warner's, we spurned the well-oiled highway south and cut off through the desert toward Vallecitos.

This road was far from being slick. It was well paved with rocks, but they were at the wrong elevations. At least, in spots. You see, the highway hasn't been developed so far along toward El Centro, although scrapers were working on it in spots, and the going wasn't too bad.

After several miles—36, wasn't it?—we finally swam through some desert country to a place named Vallecitos, which was the turning spot for the trip. Road wasn't so good after that, George advised.

At Vallecitos they've restored an old stage station on the Butterfield trail, where coaches rumbled back in the 1850's, bringing mail to Los Angeles and San Francisco from the rail end in Missouri. This station had almost crumbled away into dust, we were told, when government aid was obtained to restore it. Residents of the district, (there is only one family, the Campbells, within 15 or 20 miles) sided with much historical data. Restoration held so accurately to the original method of construction that they even made the roof of the large building the same as it was in the old days.

That may sound simple, but it wasn't. The roof over one room was made of brush and straw, bound together with deer hide. So, the workers used deer hide to make the roof. Even the surroundings of the covering were bound with cowhide. So that was used in the restoring work. It took hides of five deer and about 20 cows to fix that roof up properly! Also, no nails were used. Pegs. And hand-wrought iron for hinges on the doors—everything's exactly the same as it was. Even the surroundings, probably. The walls are made of a 'dobe-like' peat substance from a nearby swamp, where the original was obtained. All they need is a few Injuns in the nearby hills to attack the place once in a while, and we'd be back nearly 100 years!

That one building is worth the entire trip. We'll recommend it, personally, but go prepared for some slightly rough travel!

Other observations, almost too numerous to mention: That the highway follows a huge fault for nearly its entire length—proven by the hot springs along the route. Carbon canyon springs, just north of Yorba Linda. Glen Ivy. Elsinore. Murietta. Dripping Springs, and Warner's. . . Warner's is worth a visit. Water is boiling hot, and was observed to be of the same temperature near 100 years ago. No fishing. . . Lots of Indians, but no scalps. . . When first travelers covered the route, they took their covered wagons apart three times in six miles to let 'em down precipices. We didn't take our car apart once. Quite

WORK STARTS ON $45,854 SAN CLEMENTE WPA PROJECTS

PROGRAM OF BUILDING TO START

Four Model Homes To Be Built In District; Boom Expected

SAN CLEMENTE.—Start of work on four WPA projects totaling $45,854 and plans for a building program by Capitol Co., local real estate developers, expected to result in a building boom in this locality, have been announced here.

The real estate firm expects to build four model homes, two on residence property, one on beach frontage and one as an acreage estate, it was announced.

Simultaneously with Capitol Co.'s announcement comes word from L. M. Strang, superintendent of public works for the city, of start of four WPA projects, employing 60 men.

Project No. 1 is enlargement and improvement of the municipal golf course, at an approximate cost of $7208. Project 2, improvement of pier and tennis courts, $14,053. Project 3, street work, $11,988, and project 4, general beautification of trees and parkways, $12,605.

It is also reported that two additional allocations for work have been made amounting to $21,288, but funds are not available at this time.

The city's portion of the total expenditure is $5000. Arrangements have been made with Bank of America to cash warrants up to this amount.

P. O. E. MEET IS ORANGE EVENT

ORANGE.—Members of Chapter 1E of the P. O. E. Sisterhood met at the home of Mrs. E. H. Smith, Wednesday afternoon, and elected officers for the coming year, with Mrs. Jack L. Clayton elected president.

Mrs. O. K. Dean was chosen for vice president; Mrs. B. B. Barton, recording secretary; Mrs. H. S. Campbell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. O. K. Anderson, treasurer; Mrs. S. C. Wheeler, guard, and Mrs. E. H. Smith, reciprocity delegates.

Officers were installed by the retiring president, Mrs. Frank M. Gulick, master.

Stewart M. White, was taken into the organization and a corsage was presented Miss Mildred Watson, outgoing recording secretary for perfect attendance during the past year.

Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held today and Saturday at 107 West Chapman avenue. The committee in charge includes Mrs. B. S. Brubaker, Mrs. W. F. Kogler, Mrs. B. B. Barton, Mrs. E. M. Gulick and Mrs. C. W. Jordan, Santa Ana. Others present at the meeting were Mrs. Robert Campbell, Mrs. Donald Smiley, Mrs. Frank Collins and Mrs. Margaret Ockels.

PLAN PROGRAM AT OCEANVIEW

OCEANVIEW.—Seventh grade pupils will have charge of an assembly at the school this afternoon and will present four plays, "Cure that Cold," "In Lem Haskins' Store," "Scheming Sammy" and "Hiring a Maid."

A costume dance will be given by Lucile Lewis and Mary Courregio; Robert Hill and Phyllis Schuth will give accordion solos and Mary Courregio will sing as part of the program, which will be announced by Victor Elliot, class president.

Miss Beatrice Brockman, Mrs. Harvey Moulton, Miss Edith Spencer and Miss Ruth Spencer will attend a meeting of the kindergarten-primary association of Orange county to be held in Laguna Saturday.

Miss Phyllis Jamison, Miss Genevieve White, Miss Edith Spencer, Miss Ruth Spencer and Miss Helen Schoenberg were dinner guests of Miss Susan Russell, Huntington Beach, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Moulton are planning to entertain a week-end party in their cabin at Lake Arrowhead. Their guests will be Miss Phyllis Jamison, Miss Helen Schoenberg, Miss Sue Russell, Roscoe Bradbury, Paul Beatty and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Peterson.

OCEANVIEW.—Townsend club members met Tuesday evening in the school auditorium with J. H. Walsh, Costa Mesa, as speaker for the program. A piano solo was played by Nadine Bailey and a pot-luck supper, to be given March 23 was announced.

... They have a dinosaur's footprint at Warner's. Lots of 'em in nearby hills. The footprints, we mean. . . If you like cactus, take that route. More than there in any other desert spot we've visited. . . We've decided that it takes enthusiasm to promote such a road, and that George Kellogg has it. . .

Handsome Cross Stitch Chair Set

PATTERN 5495
You can have this done in time for Easter—yes, truly! If you begin at once, and what better time to introduce a brand new chair set to living-room, bedroom or den? Easy, six-to-the-inch crosses make this stitchery fun, while a variety of colors for roses, ribbons and basket will whip liveliness into the design. Perchance it's a large pillow for the sofa—a pair of small boudoir pillows you need? These motifs would be lovely for either.

In pattern 5495 you will find a transfer pattern of a large motif 12 1/2 x 15 inches, and two smaller ones 7 x 7 1/2 inches; material requirements; color chart and key; illustrations of all stitches used. To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Journal, Household Arts Dept., 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, California.

SEED EXPERT SPEAKS TO BEACH P.-T.A. ELECTION SLATED

ORANGE.—Lawrence Haven, seed grower of Santa Ana, was speaker at a meeting of the Rotary club yesterday, telling of the seed industry in the United States and pointing out changes that have come about by improving varieties.

Mr. Haven has approximately 600 acres planted this year, he said, to raise vegetables and other plants for their seeds. The industry is one of the oldest in the country, he added, but only in recent years has great improvement been made in producing disease-resisting strains.

His father was in the seed business before him. Mr. Haven explained, and came to California in 1903 from Michigan. The location in Orange county was chosen after many localities had been considered, he said. Local conditions are considered the best to produce the type of seeds desired. Tomatoes are mainly the chief crop raised by Mr. Haven, and he told of work done by the late Fred J. Prichard of the department of agriculture, who brought out several new varieties.

Only 70 years ago people believed tomatoes were poisonous, he said. However, A. J. Livingston, Ohio, did much to rid people of this idea, the speaker said in conclusion.

Oscar Gunther was program chairman. President "Bob" McCaulay announced that March 19 will be Ladies' night, and William G. Campbell will tell of a trip to the Orient, showing pictures. A new member, Henry Walsworth, was welcomed into the club.

BAPTISTS HAVE FAMILY NIGHT

Family night, with special honors going to the Children's World Crusade and the World Wide guild, was observed in the dinner and program given Wednesday night by the Woman's society of the First Baptist church.

In keeping with the garden theme of the year, the events were slanted as a "butterfly" dinner and "spring blossom" program.

The dinner committee included Mesdames J. R. Farwell, L. E. Coffman, W. P. Hodge, W. H. Murphy, C. A. Knowlton and R. E. McBurney, and Miss Irene Cravath. Miss Elaine Owings played Guild rally songs while the guests assembled.

Following dinner, Mrs. J. Leslie Steffensen led the song service, with Mrs. Richard Robbins in charge of devotionals on the subject, "Growth," with incidental music by Miss Mame Havens and Richard Robbins.

Numbers by the Jewel band, under Mrs. Jessie White, opened the program. Billy Locke read the Scripture and David Cadwallader read, "What Is a Boy Worth?" James Leslie Steffensen, jr., sang "Little Jewels."

Heralds, under Mrs. C. J. Rowland, were represented by Carl Ward, jr., who read "The Sea Is Wide." The entire department sang the Herald pep song. Margaret Lockett and Warner Baird gave a piano duet.

Crusaders, under Mrs. E. A. Baird, presented Marjorie Garnett, who gave a Scripture memory verse; Virginia Cairns, who read "God's Children," and Barbara Jean Brown, who read "My Witnesses." "Wonder Wheels" was sung by the department, led by Miss Mary Nalle and accompanied by Marilyn Munselle.

Nursery rhymes were sung by the high school girls' triple trio, under Mrs. Steffensen.

The Viola Hill chapter of the World Wide guild gave a play, "The Country Cousin," under their leader, Miss Geraldine Cole. Participants were Helen Latham, Betty Lou Ashland, Genevieve Reed, Virginia Watkins, Dorothy Van Horn, Rosemary Harp, Carroll Miller, Bonnie Lee Martin, with Mary Hoover and Joy Crouse assisting as stage managers.

Officers of the Naomi Fletcher and Alameda circles of the World Wide guild presented a candle-light consecration service, directed by Mrs. H. Raymond Smith. Those participating were Pauline Cave, Ruth Lockett, Dorothy Jenkins, Lenora Marchant, Mary Coffman, Martha Farwell and Barbara Rowell.

Miss Laura Joiner sang "The Guild Girls' Prayer," as benediction.

Morning and afternoon meetings were held by the Woman's society in advance of the banquet.

The Sidewalk Spectator:

To The Journal:—I see where Mrs. Mabel Spizzy, Santa Ana fourth district P-T. A. chairman, was to give a talk at Garden Grove yesterday on the "Wise Use of the Radio."

I don't know just what Mrs. Spizzy's address consisted of, but I hope it was suggested to apartment dwellers that since their neighbor next door has a radio too, and unless paralyzed is able to turn it on himself if he cares to listen, it isn't necessary to play their own with a loud needle. I also hope Mrs. Spizzy suggested a reasonable time to turn the "dumb things" off.

Let's have a series of "Wise Uses of..." to include the automobile and its horn, the telephone, etc.

Then, we might have a series on the wise use of the human body to include our stomachs, eyes, ears, tongues and brains.

Yours for a wiser use of what is ours to enjoy.

POLICE REPORTS

ARMS CACHE FOUND IN FOLSOM GUN SMUGGLING PLOT

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—Investigation of an asserted plot to smuggle guns into Folsom prison has led to the finding of three revolvers and a quantity of ammunition buried on a suburban chicken ranch.

Detective Lieutenants Robert Chambers and Tom Maloney dug up the guns and then questioned Mrs. Eleanor Quinn, who, they said, formerly operated the ranch and whose husband, Robert Quinn, is now in Folsom. Mrs. Quinn denied all knowledge of any purported plot, and declared the guns belonged to Edward Freeman, now on trial on theft charges.

IT'S HOUSE-TRAILER NOW And Business Is Growing

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—One of the most striking developments during the past year in the Los Angeles industry has been the increase in the production of so-called house trailers, for automobiles, the chamber of commerce's Southwest Business Review says.

"Today there are over 50 firms, large and small, engaged in this business in Los Angeles county, and possibly 10 or 15 of them have achieved a considerable degree of nationwide distribution," the report continued.

"A few of the larger plants have built production to more than one unit a day, with a resultant stabilization in employment. Many of the plants are still small concerns and the next 12 months will find a lot of these weeded out."

"However, the peak season is just beginning and requests for prices and information are pouring in from all parts of the country."

TEAPOT DOME SUIT ASKS $5,188,721

Doheny Estate Sued By Government; Scandal
Is Told In Claim

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—An echo of the 15-year-old Teapot Dome scandal that linked the names of the late Edward L. Doheny, creator of a vast oil industry, and Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, reverberated today as the government filed a $5,188,721.77 claim against Doheny's estate.

The claim reviewed the Teapot Dome case, citing that on March 5, 1921, Doheny "launched a conspiracy to obtain control of lands in the naval petroleum reserve No. 1 and in accordance with his conspiracy, corrupted Fall in the latter's official capacity" by making him a gift of a loan.

As the first step, the claim recited, Fall caused President Harding to transfer his control of the lands in question on March 31, 1921, and on November 30, 1921, Doheny gave Fall $100,000 in currency and in exchange received the coveted oil leases for the Pan-American Petroleum corporation, of which he then was chairman of the board of directors.

After discovery of the asserted fraud, the government said in its claim, suits and claims were instituted in the courts for $9,282,651.65 principal and $1,597,374.20 interest, allegedly owed by Pan-American. On November 6, 1933, the claim sets forth, a credit of $191,214.28 was made to Doheny by the government, and on May 14, 1935, the government received $5,500,000 more, leaving the unpaid balance of $5,188,721.77 with interest at 7 per cent from May 14, 1935.

The government's claim was directed against Mrs. Carrie Estelle Doheny, the widow, and Robert M. Sands and Olin Wellborn, Jr.

BURNS' PUPILS PLAN RECITAL

Edward Burns, cellist, will present a group of students in a recital tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Ebell clubhouse.

Students who will participate are Alden Hopkins, Robert Hood, Blanche Patton, Paul Fussell, Earl Talley and Anna May Archer.

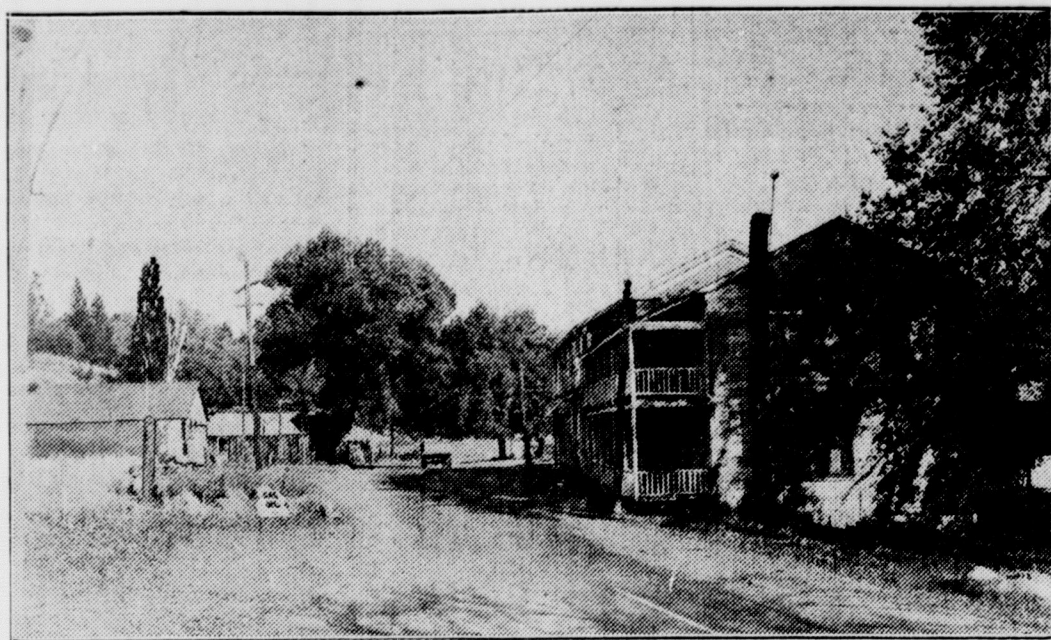

Also on the program will be a waltz and nocturne by Earl Fraser, played by an ensemble including Philip Hood, flute; Cecil Tozier, clarinet; Dudley Page Harper, pianist; and Edward Burns, cellist.

Miss Margaret Schaefer will accompany all the students with the exception of Paul Fussell, whose mother will accompany him.

Air mail traffic from Great Britain increased 54 per cent during 1935.

California Ghost Town Is Modernized

The main street of famous Rough and Ready, which is packed with the lore of California gold mining days, and which was electrified for the first time in 1936, nearly 90 years after the town was founded in the gold rush of '49.

Scratches, Few Changes, In Latest 'Handicap' Of County Political Racers

By TED STEPHENSON

Just been lallygaggin' around, here of late—sort of flitting from one political camp ground to another. Playing Walter Winchell in an attempt to uncover some pre-race dope.

Taken by and large, the set up hasn't changed much since my previous brainstorm, the "Political Handicap," burst into print. There have been a few scratches, a few new entries, and one or two changes in the probable odds.

For instance, Fred Rowland is definitely withdrawn from the First District Supervisorial Handicap. His stablemate, William C. Jerome, is still my choice for first place. A new entry, or possible entry, was seen when friends of Santa Ana's city judge, J. G. Mitchell, intimated that he might be groomed for the race.

He's Democrat

Judge Mitchell, who has gained a reputation as a hard hombre to beat to the wire, will offer lots of contention. He's a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat, and they do say there are numerous Bourbons hereabouts.

A second probable scratch in this particular race is William Iverson, another teammate of Bill Jerome's.

One more may jump into the field, though, with the more than bare possibility of making a run for the purse, and that is Charles Van Wyck, beaten by the favorite in his last out.

Something to Remember

There's just one thing to remember in all these prognostications, however, and that is that Cavalcade was supported to run in the Santa Anita handicap. He did not choose to run. That might hold true here.

Developments, changes in weather and track conditions, to say nothing of the latest astrological reports, have tended to place Le Roy Lyon in the top spot in the Third District Supervisorial Handicap. The future books had him in second place with Bill Schumacher as the favorite. Personally, I now have serious doubts as to the likelihood of the latter ever going to the post.

Another one of my entrants in the winter books, Mike Hogue, up and got himself eliminated when he took on the job of postmaster at Brea.

James Tuffree, so far as available dope can show, is still in the running. He has been taking lots of work-outs lately, and unless the weather changes, will be among the starters.

Possible Candidates

Two new possible candidates for the purse are Gilbert Kraemer and W. J. Carmichael. At present, it looks as though Kraemer might be the dark horse in this race.

The set-up in the Southern Assembly District Futurity hasn't changed any, so far as this handicap can see. If Jimmy Utt decides to run, then you can mortgage your farm and shoot the works. If his backers scratch him to enter him in the race for State Senatorship, then we're going to see a wide open battle with some fancy crowding on the curves.

Joel Ogle, who lost his only start in a political handicap, yet a probable starter if they scratch the favorite. I'm told by one or two master minds of political fiction that he stands a good chance of getting in the money.

Other Contenders

There are three more likely contenders for the honors in Joe Smith. The latter has been working out in the sandy course at Laguna Beach and seems to be in fairly good shape. The Thompson entry has never been to the post before, and may be in here just for a warm up for future events. Joe is an old campaigner, having won in the recent municipal handicap, and there is a rumor to the effect that he has a hankering to work out again on the Sacramento turf.

The picture hasn't changed any in so far as the race for the Northern Assembly District purse is concerned. Tom Talbert still looks the best of the bunch, with the logical contender, W. J. Carmichael of Fullerton, giving him plenty of trouble. Lloyd Verry and Tom H. Kuchel will be in there, but just how close they can come to the top entries is a question.

Now for the big race, The State Senator.

In the winter book, Ray Adkinson was placed along about fifth with odds quoted at 5 to 1. I am making him the favorite now for the following reasons: first, Republicans and Democrats alike will vote for Ray—he's that kind of a man; second, the old saying that the Republican nominee had two strikes on the Democratic entry before the final race actually started, will not hold true in this handicap. The old guard might as well realize that the Bourbons have moved in and will make the going plenty tough.

Tom McFadden, Jimmy Utt (if he runs here), Fred Rowland, Albert Laurer, Tom Talbert, and I suppose N. E. West, will have the top one to beat. It will be a wide open race.

In the Congressional Stake race, our old favorite, Sam Collins, still holds the top spot. He has an annoying habit of running under the other fellow's colors and making it a one horse race in the finals. The political seers, however, have expressed an opinion to the effect that he will have a real race on his hands this year.

Ray Adkinson, of course, might still be scratched in the Senatorial Handicap to run here. This, however, is unlikely. We still have John King, beaten in his last out, who in all probability will try to make a run away race under the Democratic flag in the primaries. And what about N. E. West?

SECURITIES ISSUE OVERSUBSCRIBED

WASHINGTON, March 6. (AP)—The treasury announced today that subscriptions totalling $8,459,000.00 were received for its March cash offering of $1,250,000,000 in securities.

Cash subscriptions of $5,106,000,000 were received on the bond offering of $650,000,000, while a total of $3,353,000,000 was received for the offer of $500,000,000 in notes.

Subscriptions up to $5000 will be allotted in full.

ROUGH AND READY, Cal., March 6 (AP)—Rough and Ready, once seriously proposed as a separate state of the union, had to wait for this year of 1936 to enjoy electric lights.

For more than half a century Rough and Ready has been a "ghost" town—founded in '49 by gold rush emigrants, proclaimed an independent "state" a year later, and since gradually deserted until only a handful of residents remained.

The recent gold mining revival brought the change. Rough and Ready is heating back, partly as an overflow community for the nearby towns of Grass Valley and Nevada City, five or six miles distant, but mostly on its own account. All about are the drab, washed-up flats which once contributed age-old accumulations of gold.

Houses Repaired

Lately houses have been repaired, the abandoned town hall reclaimed, brush growths cleared from the ancient cemetery, and the first new houses built since greyhairs among the citizenry were children.

Gasoline pumps are replacing the hitching rack and the old road house, telephones have made their appearance, and—greatest modernization of all—electric lights have been installed.

Rough and Ready was named for General Zachary Taylor. Of its statehood, an early historian wrote:

"During the uncertainty of 1850 when everything was new and government of a legal kind not yet a stranger to the town, E. F. Brundage conceived the idea of a separate and independent government. He issued a high sounding manifesto and called a mass meeting to organize the state of Rough and Ready. About a hundred men adhered to him for a while, but the whole affair was so severely ridiculed that the state of Rough and Ready vanished like mist."

Another Scheme

The time was conducive to such ideas, such as the "traveling republic" scheme of Capt. Joseph S. Watkins. He was an educated Virginian who had served in his state legislature, and who in December, 1848, held at Memphis, Tenn., an organization meeting for a provisional government to see 100 citizens across the plains to the California gold fields, at a cost of $1000 each. An elaborate constitution was adopted and officers, judges, legislature and minor functionaries elected.

The legislature exempted officials from camp drudgery and duty, and the law led to the eventual breakup of the traveling republic after it had passed Fort Laramie. The expedition scattered in several groups. "President" Watkins of the republic and many of the others eventually reaching California, but not in the contemplated orderly manner.

DAIRYMEN TO MEET HERE

Dr. C. U. Duckworth, assistant state director of agriculture, will be the speaker at a meeting of dairymen called for next Wednesday in the city council chambers, it was announced today by County Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs.

Dr. Duckworth will discuss activities of the bureau of animal industry of the state department of agriculture, with "Bovine Tuberculosis in Retrospect and Prospect" as his subject. He will talk at 10:30 a. m.

At 11:30 a. m., following the main talk, Dr. J. H. Bowers, Orange county livestock and meat inspector, and Ray E. Smith, county dairy inspector, will speak briefly, Mr. Tubbs said.

Time will be allotted for a forum discussion and for questioning of the speakers. All owners of dairy cattle in the county are invited to attend the sessions.

Y. W. BANQUET DRAWS 150

A hundred and fifty Y. W. C. A. members gathered for their annual convocation in the Y. W. C. A. rooms last night to conclude the year's business and hear an address by Mrs. Earl Cranston, president of the Redlands Y. W. C. A., and regional chairman of Southern California public affairs for the Y. W. C. A.

If women are to progress in public affairs, Mrs. Cranston declared, they have certain qualities to acquire. Peace and neutrality are necessary elements for constructive service, she felt.

Tables had been set with tall blue tapers and pottery bowls of sweet peas. Vegetable dishes and other table accessories were in pottery also. Hostesses at each of the 15 tables served their own table of 10 guests. Decorations had been arranged by Miss Mabel Larriek.

Mrs. Dexter Ball, membership chairman, presided at that phase of the meeting, and Miss Mabel McFadden, president, officiated at the business meeting. Introduction was made of the various executives of the association and of Mrs. John Tesson, advisor to the Junior college Y. W. C. A., and of Miss Lena Thomas, Girl Reserve advisor.

The day's balloting elected to new positions on the board the following members: Miss Mary Bruner, Mrs. T. P. Douglas, Mrs. Fred Jayne, Mrs. A. B. Jesse, Miss Boyd Joplin, Miss Rowena Newcomb, Miss Vanche Plumb and Mrs. H. H. Nuttall.

The nominating committee included Mrs. Perry Schrock, Mrs. Dexter Ball, Mrs. Carson Smith, Miss Martha Whitson and Mrs. Jessie White. All of the new officers had been previously nominated by the retiring nominating committee, under Mrs. H. J. Howard.

Tweed-Clad Greta Garbo Belies Stockholm Gossip She's Gone In For Frills

STOCKHOLM, March 6. (AP)—Hearkening again to the call of Hollywood, Greta Garbo, inscrutable Swedish film star, is understood to be almost ready to return to America.

Lately enjoying winter sports at Are, a fashionable resort in the north of Sweden, in company with Count and Countess Wachtmeister, she discredited reports that ill health had caused her physician to advise delay in her return to work.

In Stockholm, with the exception of a brief period at Christmas time when she had a cold, she has been in evidence at theaters, in restaurants and on shopping tours.

Wears Sweater in Theater

In these appearances she continued to give the lie to stories that she would return to the United States as an entirely new personality; with hair coiled into modern coiffure, and with her clothes, from hat to shoes, in keeping with latest fashions.

Seen here in Sweden's capital, Garbo was still addicted to loose fitting coats, shapeless hats, flat-heeled shoes, and an air of complete disinterest in what other women were wearing.

Her theater costume more often than not—and she has seen every legitimate stage show here—has consisted of rough skirt, pull-over sweater, and hat pulled low over her eyes.

Shop girls swear by her. "She never makes a fuss," explained one. "She seems to know what she wants, and it isn't necessary to put the whole store on the counter for her."

Night Life Gayety Is "Out"

Smart society in Stockholm has yet to know her, however, and gay night life does not claim her. Her circle of friends is limited, aside from her Swedish friends, to a few who would return to Hollywood with her, from the Wachtmeisters and Max Gumpel, the building engineer whose name has been linked with hers in rumored romance for several years.

Negotiations relative to her next film are still under way, it is understood, but within the near future she is expected to start back for the studio lights.

It is regarded as self-evident, however, that the same Garbo will return, the same in manner, dress, evasiveness and disposition.

FOUR BEST PLAYS TO BE ANNOUNCED AT BARN MEETING

Contestants, note!

The four best entries in this year's one-act play contest of the Santa Ana Community players will be announced at the Barn meeting Tuesday evening.

Miss Ethel Walker, John Swarthout and Ralph Baker spent a month working on the plays entered, to determine their relative merits. Mrs. R. Carson Smith, Mrs. Leland Auer and John Colwell formed the play writing committee.

Mrs. Northrop Ellis will be program chairman at the Barn meeting. A one-act play directed by Gladys Simpson Shafer will be presented. Mona Summers Smith will review the Kaufman-Dayton play, "First Lady." Music and refreshments also are planned.

L.A. BLOCKADE EFFECT NOT FELT HERE

Arrests, Court Cases Here Normal Past Month and Half

Los Angeles county's blockade against transients has had little or no effect upon the criminal situation in Santa Ana, according to opinions expressed today by Chief of Police Floyd Howard and City Judge J. G. Mitchell. Both agreed that arrests and court cases during the past month and a half have been normal.

Chief Howard, in commenting on the situation, pointed out that arrests in February reached an unusually high peak, but that this was in no way caused by the transient blockade. The increase in arrests was explained in part by the fact that numerous bench warrants for the arrest of persons charged with failure to pay fines had been served.

According to a dispatch from Riverside county, a noticeable decrease in the number of criminal cases handled by the superior court there is believed to be the direct result of the Los Angeles blockade against transients. Superior Judge O. K. Morton, Riverside, announced that Monday's criminal calendar of four defendants was the smallest in years. The average, he said, is between 10 and 25 cases.

POWER CURBED ON LICENSES

FRESNO, March 6. (AP)—Superior Judge T. R. Thomson ruled yesterday that the state department of motor vehicles does not have the authority arbitrarily to revoke an operator's license without previous notice or hearing except in cases involving a criminal offense.

Firemen Turn Pale at Octopi; Eat Ham 'n Eggs

SALT LAKE CITY, March 6. (AP)—Living far from the sea, members of the local fire department are not accustomed to sea food, to say nothing of baby octopi.

Lieutenant Frank Angell received a generous mess of the eight-legged creatures. He invited the rest of the force to the feast.

Following an accompanying recipe, Angel breaded the octopi and put them on the fire. The legs began to squirm—so did the firemen. Then the wriggling contents of the pan turned purple—witnesses said the firemen did too.

The delicacy went into the garbage can. Ham and eggs saved the day.

BOURBONS HELP G. O. P. CHEST

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 6. (AP)—George F. Getz, treasurer of the Republican national committee, said today "the American Liberty League has not given a cent to the Republican party."

"Some members of the league, however, may have contributed," he added.

Getz, who asserted the party's election war chest this year had more individual contributors than ever before, said these numbered "prominent" Democrats. He did not name them.

NEW FIRM FILES NAME WITH CLERK

William Iverson and Don Jerome, Santa Ana, today filed in the county clerk's office certification of doing business under an assumed name, that of the Eden Refining company.

The two started the refinery, located in Huntington Beach, two weeks ago. They will manufacture asphalt, road oil and crude oil. Mr. Jerome will continue to operate his Santa Ana service station, and Mr. Iverson will have direct charge of the refinery.

SUIT DISMISSED

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—The $110,000 defamation of character suit of Rheba Crawford Spilvato, Angeleno, Temple pastor, against Ivan McNally and others was dismissed yesterday on the agreement of attorneys for both sides. The charges arose out of criticism of Mrs. Spilvato in a religious pamphlet.

Brazilian government experts are reported to have found oil in unknown quantities in the subsoil of the east central state of Bahia and in the far western territory of Acre.

MALE CHORUS ON KVOE TONIGHT

Radio's ace octet, the Sterling male chorus, will sing the ever-popular and stirring song, "Come Back to Erin" and will revive the popular tune made popular by Gus Edwards, "Singin' in the Rain," during the Musical Moments program tonight on KVOE at 7 o'clock. Orchestral numbers will feature the hitting tune "Footloose and Fancy Free" and "Goodbye, Girl." The "Thru" will be "What to do and what not to do in the garden at this season of the year will be the subject of Maj. Harry L. Bateson's Garden School of the Air broadcast tonight at 7:45 o'clock, to be augmented by answers to questions from numerous listeners.

Major Bateson, well known gardening authority, states it is always time to plant some variety of flowers in Southern California. He has nothing to sell and makes no charges for answering questions concerning garden topics.

Juvenile Gems

The never-to-be-forgotten story of "Little Red Riding Hood" will be dramatized during the "Gems From Juvenile Literature" broadcast at 5:30 o'clock by a group of Orange county school teachers under the leadership of Arthur F. Corey, assistant superintendent of Orange county schools, and directed by Mrs. Mabel Spizzy, head of the music department.

A triple trio of Santa Ana High school girls, under the direction of Mrs. Lester Steffensen, will sing the Mother Goose songs, "Five Little Pigs," "Old Mother Hubbard" and "Hickory, Dickory Dock." Teachers taking part in the playlet include Dorothy Hanna, El Modena; Marie McGinnis, Cypress, and Mildred Everett, Katella.

Announce Winners

Following the new method of conducting the Market Bargain program at 8 o'clock, the winners of last Friday's two market baskets and the 32-piece dinnerware set will be announced during the program tonight, but it will be too late for the winners to claim their prizes if they did not do so last Saturday.

Three more gift-prizes will be offered with tonight's all request program without the necessity of making any purchases, fees or involving any obligations. Full details will be announced at the opening of the broadcast.

FINAL SESSION OF INSTITUTE

The third and final session of the Institute of Liberal Religion opens tonight at the Unitarian church. Three addresses under the caption, "Progress Toward a Modern Faith," will be given by leading educators of the Southland.

Tonight and tomorrow, prominent high school executives are billed, and the last speaker, on Sunday evening, is to be Dr. Edwin Diller Starbuck, of the University of Southern California.

As a special feature of that event, Miss Margaret Harvey, harpist for the Valley Symphony orchestra, will play for the service, and also in a brief recital preceding the service. Mrs. Calvin Flint of Santa Ana will play a group of violin and viola numbers. The pianist of the evening will be Mrs. E. M. Harvey, who will play a number of duets with the harp.

In the address this evening by Professor B. M. Shaper, principal of Redlands High school, the Institute of Liberal Religion, which has been considering problems of religion and the modern mind, turns from its consideration of scientific and modern social problems to a consideration of the inner sources of ethical and religious living.

Mr. Shaper is a life-long Unitarian and has had many years of experience in quickening the idealism of young people who pass through his schools. Personality problems are every-day problems to him and he brings to their solution a broad, religious background, a brilliant modern education, and skill born of wide experience.

The institute sessions will open at 7:30 o'clock tonight with a brief violin and piano recital by Audrey and Beatrice Granas. A period of questions and answers provided at each week-night session. Admission is free and the public is invited to attend.

RECREATION BUILDING IS ASKED HERE

A proposal for erection of a recreation building in the northern part of Santa Ana was considered by the board of directors of the farm bureau at a meeting here yesterday. H. J. Hinrichs and Mrs. A. F. Schroeder reported that the 4-H club council and the West Orange farm center do not have adequate housing facilities and that the council wishes to secure a sponsor for the building. The structure would cost about $4000 and it is hoped that part of the financing could be secured through the Works Progress administration.

The matter was referred to a committee consisting of Mr. Hinrichs, R. J. McFadden and Mrs. T. W. Clark. The committee will study the proposal and report to the ways and means committee at its next meeting.

The directors decided to give A. W. Rutan credentials to represent it at a water conference in Salt Lake City, March 11, 12 and 13. Mr. Rutan, who is a farm bureau member, also will represent the Orange county water district at the meeting.

Cecil Marks, field secretary, reported that farm bureau membership at present is 1350 and that it is expected the final yearly total will reach 1500. He said 123 new members have been added this year.

The question of farm bureau membership in the associated chambers of commerce was brought up, and it was agreed that as soon as the latter organization holds its election of officers and determines its policies, the farm bureau will be in a position to decide the question.

MORE ABOUT 3 YEARS AGO

and telling folks over the phone that they had lots of money but couldn't let go of it.

All the other bankers in the city followed more or less the same routine.

Checks? And How!

W. B. Williams of the First National bank recalls the bank holiday very distinctly. But he has a vivid memory of the days immediately after the bank holiday, too. During the closed period, merchants accepted checks from customers. Because these checks couldn't be cashed or passed around for money, the stores just put them in piles and let them accumulate.

When the banks reopened, the merchants all got the same idea at the same time. They brought all their checks to the banks and gave them to the bankers. All the customers came in and cashed checks, just to see how it felt. The bankers got busy and ran all the checks through the adding machines, or whatever kind of machines they run checks through. It was hard on the machines. But pretty soon, when folks found out they could get all the cash they wanted, they found they didn't want it so badly.

Another Anniversary

Yesterday was another important anniversary for the First National Bank. Two years ago yesterday A. I. Mellenthin became president of the bank.

The bank holiday was an interesting study in human nature for A. C. Hasenjaeger of the Commercial National bank. Although he wasn't in the banking business at that time, he recalled that before the holiday everyone was complaining about business and hard times. During the bank holiday they complained about the bank holiday. Then, on March 10, along came the earthquake. Everyone got so interested in the quake that people forgot to crab about hard times and the bank holiday. Before they knew it the holiday was over and they actually forgot to cheer.

Business Better Now

Santa Ana bankers seem to agree that the bank holiday was a good thing. C. A. Warren, manager of the Bank of America, said yesterday there was no doubt that the holiday had a tremendously beneficial effect through restoring public confidence. Business in the past three years has shown a gradual improvement, he believes. Other bankers expressed similar views. Despite insurance, which has developed since the holiday, has been a good thing for both the banks and the public, they agree. Other legislation growing out of the bank holiday also has had a beneficial effect.

But nobody wants another bank holiday, or another earthquake right away.

PROBE FINANCES AT PRISON

REDLANDS, March 6. (AP)—Arlin E. Stockburger, state director of finance, said here that "irregularities" in the accounts of San Quentin prison are being investigated.

The irregularities are not in the office of Warden James Holohan, said Stockburger.

"I have had several auditors on the job and I will have a report in the next few days which I will submit to the state prison board," Stockburger added.

Stockburger firmly declined to elaborate on the nature of the suspected irregularities.

COMPULSORY T. B. INJECTIONS HALTED BY COURT ORDER

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—Federal Judge Albert Lee Stephens issued a temporary restraining order yesterday halting compulsory bovine tuberculosis injections.

The order is returnable March 9 and was granted on application of 300 dairymen.

Buggies Dropped From Tax List; Airplanes Added

ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 6. (AP)—Horse and buggy days are no more in Buncombe county.

Officials, preparing the 1936 tax lists, dropped buggies and added airplanes.

"Nobody lists buggies here anymore," commented S. C. Hunter of the tax department.

BAND NOTES LISTED BY NUMBERS TO THWART ROBBERIES

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—In an effort to thwart bank holdups, financial institutions are taking the numbers of bills they handle, police announced today.

Capt. Harry Seager of the robbery squad said that through publication in police bulletins of lists of "hot money" it was hoped to make stolen cash difficult for bandits to handle.

Seager made public a list of a portion of the bills taken in the $6100 holdup of the Bronson-Melrose branch of the Bank of America Monday.

INDUSTRIALS LEAD BULL STOCKS

Nearly All Departments Shoved Ahead After Fast Opening

NEW YORK, March 6. (AP)—Bright industrial news spurred stocks to another bullish performance in today's market.

With the exception of the utilities and rails, which were inclined to rest after their recent climb, virtually all departments pushed ahead for gains of fractions to 3 or more points. There were a few wider advances. Many new five-year tops were recorded.

The trading pace slowed after a fast start. The alcoholists pointed the way earlier. Then the mines, farm and specialty issues were taken in hand. Finally the steels and motors came to life.

A gain of 7 points was registered by Allied Chemical and, near the beginning of the fourth hour, outstanding advances were shown by U. S. Smelting, Cerro de Pasco, American Smelting, Schenley, National Distillers, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Case, Deere, Douglas, Boeing, Owens-Illinois, Du Pont, General Electric, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors and Chrysler.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, March 6. (AP)—Industrial specialties furnished the bullish propulsion for today's stock market. General gains among the favorites ranged from fractions to a point or more, although a few wider advances were recorded. Numerous issues got into new high territory for the past five years. Trading was relatively slow, however, transfers approximating 2,850,000 shares. The close was firm.

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—California oranges were easier to lower and lemons were higher today at eastern and middle western auction centers.

Carlot auction sales averages per box of California citrus were reported to the California Fruit Growers exchange on its own brands, and to the Associated Press on all others, as follows:

NEW YORK.—Navel lower 100s-150s, slightly lower spots balance; bloods lower; lemons strong to higher. Sales: 17 cars oranges; 6 lemons. Florida sales: March 5, 47 cars oranges, $3.10; 25 grapefruit, $2.30.

BOONUS PAYING IS DESCRIBED

Instructions on the payment of adjusted service certificates were outlined by H. E. Pinney, national rehabilitation officer of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, Wednesday evening at a meeting of Jack Fisher chapter, D. A. V., held in the K. of C. hall.

"I would advise any veteran to refrain from borrowing on his certificate between now and June 15 under the old law, inasmuch as interest must be paid on such loans, whereas, if the men wait until they receive the bonds, no interest is assessed," declared Mr. Pinney. "On all applications filed to date and those filed before June 15, vouchers are made out dated June 15, checked and verified and then sent to the Federal Reserve bank, which on that date, and not before then, will mail the bonds to all applicants," Mr. Pinney continued.

Urged to Keep Bond
Veterans are urged wherever circumstances permit, Mr. Pinney declared, to keep their bonds, which for 3 per cent interest, dating from June 15, 1936. He said that probably the bonds will be cashed at all postoffices and the Federal Reserve bank with its branches.

Mr. Pinney pointed out that the hospital situation is serious, perhaps more so than at any time in the past, with 700 neuro-psychiatric cases in state institutions who rightfully belong in federal hospitals. This situation will be partially remedied with the opening of new facilities at Sawtelle, probably by July 1, which will provide 432 additional beds, he said.

The situation regarding tuberculosis is perhaps more serious for veterans who are residents of Southern California.

"The nearest facility with available beds for D. A. V. patients is at Fort Bayard, N. M., which makes it unsatisfactory for men with families in this state," Mr. Pinney pointed out.

"There are no beds at San Fernando and Tucson, nine beds at Livermore, all reserved for emergency use. The lack of personnel at Whipple Barracks, Ariz., closes this avenue."

A waiting list exists at Sawtelle of some 300 men in general medical cases with no beds available except a few reserved at all times to care for all emergency cases.

In closing, Mr. Pinney made an earnest appeal for all present to aid in exceeding the national quota set for Jack Fisher chapter, emphasizing the excellent record of the local chapter since its inception in 1927.

Edward Swan, Redlands, eighth district commander of the D. A. V. state department, announced a district meeting at Escondido Sunday, April 5, and invited a large representation of both the chapter and auxiliary to be present.

Louis Osterdag, a member of the intelligence department in the seventh division during the World War, related his experiences in "No Man's Land" in securing maps and information.

Commander L. L. Brown presided and introduced the guests of the evening as well as a number of new members and visitors, while Mrs. Pearl Lamb, auxiliary leader, presented Mrs. Irene Pinney, Los Angeles, auxiliary publicity chairman for California.

INDIAN GUARDS WILD LIFE No Hunting On Reservation

CROW AGENCY, Mont., March 6. (AP)—Chief Yellowtail of the Crow Indians is recreating a happy hunting ground on the tribal lands of his people.

But no hunting will be allowed. The chief, a Carlisle graduate and superintendent of the vast reservation, is interested only in wild life conservation in an "aesthetic sense."

"There is a three-fold purpose behind the program," he explained in precise English. "To help preserve the American buffalo on this continent; to take care of our people in periods of depression, and to see the buffalo and all big game roam the hills again unmolested as they did years ago."

By truck, Chief Yellowtail brings surplus animals from Yellowstone National park to build up the herds on the reservation.

Several hundred buffalo and elk; still more deer and smaller game now live in the box canyons of the Wolf mountains. Streams have been stocked with almost half a million trout.

QUINTS MOVIE HERE EARLY

Opening a day earlier than scheduled, "The Country Doctor," featuring the Dionne quintuplets, will open an engagement of five days at the Broadway theater tomorrow.

Continuous performances will be given tomorrow, starting at 2 p. m.

Jean Hersholt has the leading role in the drama on the screen, which was photographed under the supervision of Dr. Allan Daoe. The picture tells the sympathetic story of a backwoods doctor who gives his life to ministering to the ills of his people.

Pardon a Pun
Practical Move
Wrestling Decline

New head line-of-the-week:
"Jimmy Schmeling" says you'll pardon a wee bit of a pun, so will Schmeling—for at least 10 seconds.

One way to substantiate your fish tale is to bring in a fish tail.
T. E. Seeman and his 12-year-old son, Dale, did that at Laguna the other day when they came back from a bona expedition with the tail of a shark and a tale of an eight-foot monster of the deep that got away—partly away, at least. Young Dale, so the tale goes, was landing a bona when Mr. Shark came alongside the boat and started to take lunch on Dale's catch.

Mr. Seeman went quickly into action—so we heard—grabbed the shark by the tail and held on until the shark got disgusted or something and swam away, leaving his tail wagging behind him, in Mr.
Seeman's hand.

Action of the National Night Ball league in restricting the loop to six members—by nudging Long Beach "out"—seems a practical move. The former home of the Rear Admirals—most of whom now will join the Anaheim squad under the new deal—was not such a potent place for the sports ball players. Gates seldom paid expenses there and games were often shifted to other spots.

Now, with Long Beach out and Anaheim assured of a strong entry, financial troubles should be fewer. Orange should well and Ben Gelker and the Olive boys will pick up a little loose change, they hope, in the city patterned after a wagon wheel.

In short, the set-up points to more money all the way around —which is, after all, a rather nice outlook, isn't it? Sure it is. Money is the largest single controlling factor in any athletic venture.

Wrestling has declined from the most popular and most lucrative sport in the county almost to the ho-hum stage. Bouts have been held because performers have been two-bit guys. But it is no fault of Promoter Sam Sampson, who is merely taking a beating at the hands of the rascally cars who are keeping the big wrestlers out of the smaller arenas for the time being. Just as soon as Sampson can force the powers to hand him some decent talent, then will wrestling snap back to where it was in the happy days of Lopez, Wee Willie Davis, Chief Little Wolf, Ernie Dusek, Man Mountain
Dean and Nick Lutze. Any one of these boys—with a reasonable opponent—would start the cash register to ringing again.

San Diego Padres
Play Tomorrow

San Diego's Padres of the Coast league will go up against one of Orange county's best independent nines, Pete Lehr's service of Anaheim, at Commonwealth park, Fullerton, at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Manager Frank Chellenbach of the former Hollywood Stars has not named his starting pitcher, but Young McDonald, Pittsburgh Pirates' recruit, will be on the knoll for Lehr's. Either Starker or Salisbury will catch for the Anaheim club.

San Diego is reported in far better shape than last season.
Much more has been accomplished during the 1936 training grind, which has not been broken up by motion picture taking activities which were a major part of the 1935 program at Fullerton.

Hollywood Group Applies
For Second Racing Track

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)— Formal petition to issue a license for a second winter track in the Los Angeles area awaited action today by the California horse racing board.

The Hollywood Racing Association, with A. T. Jergins, long Beach oil magnate, the chief backer, filed the application despite repeated expressions by the state board that a second winter track movement would meet with "discouragement" from that body.

Non-Profit Basis
The new application, listing
Charles E. Cooper, prominent California breeder, as president, and Jergins vice president, said the track would be operated on a non-profit basis, the revenues to be turned over to charity.

The Hollywood group said it had no desire to increase the number of racing days in Southern California, but wanted to reduce the 58 days staged by Santa Anita's season to 50, half of which would be taken by the proposed new track, and the other half to Santa Anita.

The group recommended that the 50 days be split, 25 being permitted here, the next 25 to a track in Northern California, and 25 to its track.

Valley Site Secured
A tract of land in San Fernando valley has been secured for the new plant, the petition said.

PORKY BELL RATED EVEN IN RING BOW

EX-FOOTBALL
HERO FACES
L. THOMAS

Grid Favorite Starts
Boxing Career Here;
Le Mon Meets Lowe

Orange county amateur boxing hits the peak tonight, or at least this is the prediction of officials of the Orange County Athletic club, including Promoter Sam Sampson, as the club makes ready to present an array of box-office magnets topped by the sterling crowd-pleaser from Fullerton, Lupe LeMon. The show is augmented by the ring debut of Fred (Porky) Bell, erstwhile star of the Santa Ana Saints, and the lad who did much to bring the football title of the Coast League to Santa Ana in 1931-32.

LeMon, ready to step into the professional ranks after a slashing win over Ernie Collins last week, takes on quite an assignment when he faces the 200-pound Negro giant, Henry Lowe of Los Angeles, in the feature fight of the eight-hour card.

Bell Gets Tough One
Bell draws no push-over for his first public appearance as a glove tossing in Larry Thomas of Ontario.
Thomas is expected to concede five or more pounds, but what he lacks in heft he will make up in experience, and unless Porky is "hitting the line hard" the Negro favorite may run second best.

However, the former star of the Santa Ana eleven has been showing plenty in the gym and has trained for the past two months for tonight's debut. He is a terrific puncher, game and exceptionally rugged and aggressive, so Thomas won't find things any too easy, and may find them hard—especially Bell's flying fists and the floor of the ring.

Up from San Juan Capistrano will come some 200 fans to root for "Queen" Errecarte, heavyweight, and "Tuffy" Neiblas, middleweight. The "Queen" is slated to tackle Profit Ransom, 190-pound Santa Ana Negro, while "Tuffy" goes up against "Wild Bill" Montgomery.

Paul Brown, the former schoolboy scrapper, who fought main event after main event at the club some months ago, swings back in action after a long layoff to meet Mike Reyes in the special. Reyes is the lad who got a "left-handed" decision last week when he fought the Sherman Indian, "Chief" Davis.

Anaheim's Ken Holiday, prize package of the preliminary boys, will slug it out with Bob Singleton. Holiday never fails to make a fight of it.

Art Johnson and Andy Anderson, light-heavyweights, the latter Seattle's Golden Gloves champion from the U. S. S. Arizona, meet in the secondary feature, while the opener shows Benny Garcia and Placencia's bantamweight, Augie Reyes.

PIRRONE TESTS
BOXING SWEDE

HOLLYWOOD, March 6. (AP)—
Paul Pirrone, Cleveland puncher, and rugged Swede Berglund of San Diego step into the ring at Hollywood's Legion stadium tonight
even money bets to win.

Both boys are hoping to land a spot opposite middleweight champion Babe Risko when he comes to the west coast next month.

SAINTS AND DONS RUN AT LONG BEACH

MEDLEYS TO TOP EVENTS
TOMORROW

Coaches Reece Greene
And Bill Cook Name
Complete Entries

Banking mainly upon their medley combinations, Santa Ana's Saints and Dons will be represented at the eighth annual running of the A. A. U. Relays at Long Beach
tomorrow.

Neither the high school nor the junior college is expected to make a strong showing. Reece Greene's preps and Bill Cook's collegians have not been in suit long enough to put forth their best efforts.

Saint Medley
The Saint medley team will be comprised of Fred Tinterson, 440; Walter Opp, 880; Dearing Waggener, 1320; and Herschel Whitney, mile. Waggener has been ailing with a light touch of the flu, and may not run.

Frank Boyd, capable of 50 seconds in the one-lap sprint, will run the 440 for the Dons,
with Dave Clark of Orange following with the half-mile. Joe Frias, letterman mile, will run the 1320, and Frank Ochoa, the Anaheim boy who clicked off a 2:03.2 half-mile at Occidental last week, will finish with the half-mile.

The Saints also are entered in the four-man 880-yard relay with Dwight Neit, Harry Adams, Dalton Lutz, Blas Mercurio.

Citrus Next Week
Bill Greshner and Bob Reif, hurdlers, will be other junior college entries. Coach Cook may take over a few weightmen to give them experience for Santa Ana's opening dual meet with the Citrus Owls at Azusa next Wednesday.

Vernon Koepsel, star sprinter, is recovering from a siege of influenza, and will not run tomorrow. He may be in shape for Citrus, however.

700 ATHLETES TO COMPETE IN RELAYS

LONG BEACH, March 6. (AP)—
The strongest field of contestants in the history of the event is slated to compete tomorrow in the seventh annual Long Beach relays, initial major tournament of the 1936 parade of California's track and field athletes.

More than 700 college, high school and unattached participants are entered in the meet.
Coach Dean Cromwell of University of Southern California is sending his entire varsity, and from the north will come crack teams of Stanford University of California, Fresno State, San Mateo Junior college and others.

VICTOR M'LAGLEN, BETTE DAVIS WIN ACADEMY FILM AWARDS

'MUTINY' IS VOTED BEST PICTURE

Direction Of Ford In 'The Informer' Gets Top Position

HOLLYWOOD, March 6. (AP)—The movie industry wrote "best of 1935" today after the names of a tiny actress, a towering ex-soldier and a salty epic of the sea.

Bette Davis—Victor McLaglen—"Mutiny on the Bounty."

As symbols of peerless entertainment last year on the screen, gold statuettes were awarded to these three by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

The eighth annual awards banquet last night, staged with an unprecedented fanfare of excitement and controversy, was boycotted by powerful guilds of actors and writers on the grounds the academy is "producer-controlled."

Hepburn Second

Of the 1250 attending, about 10 per cent were from the acting branch of the industry, the smallest representation in several years. But the academy's honors went chiefly to persons outside its membership.

Its poll gave Katharine Hepburn second place for "Alice Adams," and Elizabeth Bergner third for the British-made "Escape Me Never."

Paul Muni, a surprise "write-in" selection, closely contested with McLaglen, but finished second for his work in "Back Bay."

The exact vote totals were not announced.

Laughton Third

Charles Laughton, nominated with Clark Gable and Franchot 'Tone from the cast of "Mutiny on the Bounty," was third.

Of 10 players nominated for excellence awards, only two belonged to the academy, Gable and Miss Hepburn. The latter now is on the suspended list for non-payment of dues. Claudette Colbert, Miriam Hopkins and Merle Oberon were other actresses nominees.

"The Informer," the picture that raised McLaglen from hard-boiled raised-cracking roles to the pinnacle of movie artistry, was second choice among productions, followed by "Captain Blood."

John Ford of "The Informer" won the academy's statuette for the best direction of the year. Michael Curtiz, director of "Captain Blood," was second.

Third directorial mention went to Henry Hathaway for "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," and fourth to Frank Lloyd for "Mutiny on the Bounty."

For Role in "Dangerous"

Miss Davis, born Ruth Elizabeth Davis in Lowell, Mass., April 5, 1908, said "I'm so tickled I can't even think."

In 1934, her portrayal in "Of Human Bondage" made her a "write-in" contestant in the academy voting. Her work in "Dangerous" clinched honors for 1935.

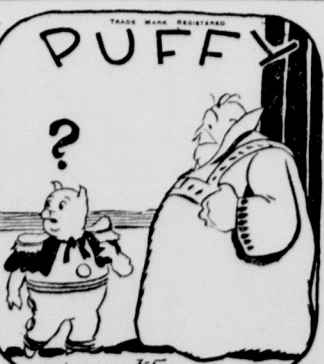

McLaglen, London-born, but a naturalized American, grinned as he commented, "Naturally, I'm very pleased." He's 50, served in the World War, once boxed Jack Johnson, and found a screen niche in "What Price Glory" with Edmund Lowe.

CARPENTER RITES TO BE SATURDAY

Funeral services for Seymour L. Carpenter, 81, who passed away at St. Joseph's hospital Wednesday after a brief attack of pneumonia, will be conducted at the Harrell and Brown parlors at 10 a. m. tomorrow, with the Rev. W. S. Buchanan of the First Christian church officiating.

Mr. Carpenter, who for the past 15 years had been a business associate of W. B. Martin, Santa Ana realtor, was active in the Sons of Union Veterans and the Community Men's Bible class. These organizations will assist with the services. Music will be furnished by Willard Bassett, song leader, and R. S. Griggs, pianist.

The body will be sent to Clear Lake, Ia., for burial alongside his wife, who died 10 days ago. Mr. Carpenter is survived by a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Nellie Carpenter, Santa Ana, and a brother, E. P. Carpenter, Bradentown, Fla.

"I hear someone weeping," says Puffy. "Do you?" The fat mayor fidgets, then mutters, "Pooh, pooh!" It's only the wind in the oak trees below. And now I must ask you politely to go.

Voted Best

For his work in "The Informer" and her role in "Dangerous," Victor McLaglen, above, and Bette Davis, below, were voted the outstanding screen players of 1935 by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. They were awarded gold statuettes last night by the academy at a banquet in Los Angeles.

NAZIS BUILD UP NATION'S DEFENSES

Germany Seeks Power So Its Demands Can Not Be Denied

BERLIN, March 6. (AP)—Week by week Germany's energy is increasingly concentrated on preparing the nation's forces to fight for the Fatherland.

With each new gun, airplane and warship, Nazi leaders believe they increase their world bargaining power so that colonies, revision of certain frontiers and other demands cannot be denied them.

Successful laying of the ground work for rebuilding the military machine is considered by experts to have been accomplished in the year that has passed since the Nazi dictator, Adolf Hitler, unshackled the reich from the Versailles treaty causes which destroyed the old army. He suddenly declared on March 16, 1935, that he would no longer respect those clauses.

All Bound to Army

Alongside the speedy manufacture of guns and airplanes and the building of warships, the Nazi government through decrees is putting economics and finance at the service of rearmament. Simultaneously, the nation's man, woman and child power is being instructed in what to do in case of war. All phases of life, officials said, are being bound together to uphold the army.

Land armaments are further along than are either the air or naval, but military men predict that coming months will see a spurt in aviation which they say will "probably startle a good many nations."

Plan Big Air Program

Combat squadrons, they believe will begin to show themselves at various parts of Germany in rapid succession, for plans have been equipped and plans laid through the last year which now ought to begin bearing fruit.

How many air squadrons Gen. Herman Goering intends to build is unknown, as is the greater part of the whole rearmament program. Open lips are "verboten" and that means indiscretions may be treated as treason.

FIREMEN PUT OUT BLAZE IN PANTS

RENSSELAER, N. Y.—When fire of undetermined origin flared in the seat of Michael Marra's trousers, he raced to the nearest fire house. "A dose with a hose eliminated the fire, but Marra looked sadly at the wreckage of his trousers and started to find how it happened. He escaped burns.

PURSE SNATCHER MEETS AMAZON

CHICAGO.—Mrs. Alice Schiavon, 36, told police a purse snatcher tried to rob her, but he didn't because: She tripped him, stamped on his face, kicked him in the side, tackled him when he tried to escape and, finally, sank her teeth in his left leg. He then dropped the purse and ran, she said.

HOT FOR MADAME PERKINS But Phone Call Ends Strike

WASHINGTON, March 6. (AP)—A telephone conversation between a swanky hotel here and the back room of a Long Beach, Calif., butcher shop led to the settlement of a sailors' strike that allowed the steamship California to leave the west coast Wednesday night for New York.

In the butcher shop was the sailors' strike committee. At the hotel was Secretary Perkins, who had been called away from the cabinet's annual dinner for President Roosevelt.

Miss Perkins told newspapermen the strikers agreed to go back to work when she gave her pledge that their point of view would be placed before the committee negotiating a new Atlantic coast wage and hour contract.

Accompanied by a labor department conciliator, the strike committee went to the butcher shop, Miss Perkins said, because the strikers feared spies.

While the committee considered her proposal, she held the wire for nearly an hour in a phone booth in the ladies' cloakroom.

"My goodness it was hot," she said, "but I certainly was glad to be able to go back to the dinner and tell the President the ship had been released."

SCOUT TROOP PLANS SUPPER

Boy Scout troop No. 19 of Santa Ana, sponsored by the Lions club of Santa Ana, held a special troop meeting Tuesday.

Officers of the troop include Robert R. Russick, scoutmaster; William Henry, senior patrol leader; Bud Parrot, Lion patrol leader; Cobra patrol leader; James Patterson; Wolf patrol leader, Don Dunkin; and Milton Danielson, troop scribe.

A supper will be held next week in Jack Fisher camp.

The army is an "ersatz reserve" about which little is known. It is composed of men too old to be conscripted into military service—men between 23 and 40. They are being given eight weeks of training in camps.

On the sea, more than half of the 28 U-boats provided for in the 1935 program are completed, while work on two 26,000-ton ships, two cruisers of 10,000 tons and 16 destroyers is being pushed. A new naval program providing for an airplane carrier is awaited.

Officers are being trained methodically in old style German manner instead of hurriedly being put through schools and placed in commands.

The biggest development of 1936 is expected to be the drafting—by persuasion or law—of the nation's boys from 10 years up into organizations which will teach them how to rough it in the open and be ready for military service later. Girls of like ages are to receive training in Red Cross work and air raid protection.

EPICS' SLATE HEADED BY SINCLAIR

Barbara Brooks, Costa Mesa, Appointed As Delegate at Large

PASADENA, March 6. (AP)—Upton Sinclair, nominal presidential candidate, headed the Epic slate today that will run in the May 5 primary for California's delegation to the Democratic national convention.

With 40 prospective delegates named by the End Poverty League, Sinclair selected himself, his wife and six staunch supporters for the remaining places as delegates-at-large.

"Not a Game"

"This is not a game, nor a horse race," commented the 1934 Democratic nominee for governor of California last night.

"It is a matter which will help set back or forward the whole people's movement of our country, and perhaps beyond it."

He referred to the slate's pledge to urge "production-for-use" for the unemployed as a platform plank to national party leaders.

Opposes McAdoo

As the slate's presidential candidate Sinclair would receive its support on the first ballot, after which it would vote for President Roosevelt.

A slate approved by the President and dominated by U. S. Senator W. G. McAdoo will oppose it in the primary.

Sinclair's delegates-at-large candidates are Richard Gartz, Altadena; Mrs. Helen Artida, Oakland; Mrs. Barbara Brooks, Costa Mesa; Almon A. Heath, Hawthorne; Dr. George J. Saylin, Los Angeles; Alanson Sessions, Bakersfield; and Mrs. Mary Craig, Sinclair.

FOUR ADRIFT IN DORY RESCUED

SAN PEDRO, March 6. (AP)—After drifting all night in the ocean aboard a small dory in which the motor had stalled, David Belt of Long Beach, his wife, and two infant children were rescued late yesterday.

A United States coast guard patrol boat took aboard the shivering, cramped family and provided warm food and blankets. One of the children was a baby in arms.

Belt borrowed the dory Wednesday from a friend, Henry Utrecht, of Long Beach. With his family, Belt churned around the breakwater, stopping occasionally to fish.

When the boat did not return, Utrecht notified the coast guard and two patrol boats put out, finding the stranded dory several miles beyond the breakwater.

'CZAR' NAMED BY STATE'S BREWERS

Major General Malone Will Rule After Leaving Army

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—Major General Paul B. Malone is leaving the army after 42 years for a new career—administrator of the California beer industry.

The 63-year-old military leader is to retire May 31 as commander of the Ninth Corps area. He will head this state's brewers as a "czar" on the following day with powers comparable to Will Hay of the movies and Kenesaw M. Landis of baseball.

"To eliminate disastrous practices which have brought similar industries to the verge of ruin," said General Malone, "to develop purity of product and to bring about necessary labor reforms are among the first, important jobs that confront me."

R. W. Taylor, secretary of the Los Angeles unit of the California Brewers Institute, said the general had been drafted to help smooth out the industry's difficulties without recourse to the legislature.

Native Daughters of Golden West State Full Day for Grand President's Visit

Will Present Flags at Rites

Mrs. Anne C. Theusen to Be Accompanied by State Executives

The visit of Mrs. Anne C. Theusen, grand president of Native Daughters of the Golden West, from San Francisco, will occasion a full day of celebration next Monday in Santa Ana.

Presentation of four flags, under which California government has progressed, will be made to T. E. Stephenson, chairman of the Bowers Memorial museum board, in the museum auditorium at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Mrs. Matilda Lemon, chairman of "History and Landmarks," will present the Spanish, Mexican, Bear and United States flags, on behalf of the Santa Ana parlor of Native Sons and Daughters.

Mrs. F. E. Coulter, curator of the museum, will follow the acceptance of the flags with a talk on the history of the institution.

Incidental music will be given by Leon Eckles' Works Progress administration orchestra. Prominent citizens of the city have been invited to share the program. Among those who will be present are Mayor Fred C. Rowland, H. I. Wood, secretary of the chamber of commerce, Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, and Frank Henderson, city superintendent of schools.

Patriotic and historical organizations have been invited to send representatives to the ceremonies. A 6:30 o'clock banquet in Veterans hall will follow the afternoon program, when Mrs. Theusen will present a Bear flag to the Santa Ana city council, headed by Mayor Rowland.

Mrs. J. H. Bray, president of Santa Ana parlor of Native Daughters, and Carl Schroeder, president of the Santa Ana parlor of Native Sons, will share prominent honors on the program.

Bertha Hitt, organizer of the Santa Ana parlor, is to be present. Accompanying Mrs. Theusen will be Mrs. Catherine O'Reilly, her mother, Mrs. Hazel Hansen, Verdugo parlor of Glendale; Mrs. Nellie Cline, Grace parlor of Placentia; Mrs. Alice Lane, Castor parlor of San Francisco, grand trustee; Ethel Begley, Marina parlor, San Rafael, grand marshal; Grace Stoermer, Los Angeles, past grand president, and Mary Noerenberg, Californiana parlor, Hollywood, grand outside sentinel.

Which do you consider the safer place to travel, the ground or the air?

Mrs. J. T. Raitt: I wouldn't flip a coin for the difference. If I'm in a hurry, I'd rather go by air. I haven't had much experience with traveling by air, but I certainly enjoy it and think it's safe enough. Mrs. Joseph Kroek: They're both dangerous. I believe I prefer the automobile to travel in. Miss Martha Ehlen is the nominating committee's choice for next year's president of the Orange county branch, American Association of University Women, the committee's report today revealed.

Miss Ehlen, who is a teacher of German in the Fullerton district junior college, has been active for several years in A. A. U. circles. Others nominated by Mrs. Edith Thatcher and her committee are Miss Ruth Rowland, vice president; Mrs. P. B. Gillespie, recording secretary; Miss Dorothy Smith, corresponding secretary; Miss Geraldine Cole, treasurer, and Miss Bernice Boyd, Miss Eleanor Metzger, Mrs. Horace Scott and Miss Mabel Whiting, directors.

At the April 2 meeting, additional nominations may be made from the floor, and election will take place. The Orange county branch will sponsor an international relations dinner meeting Thursday evening at 6:15 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. rooms.

Dinner reservations must be made by Tuesday, by phoning either 4475-M or 5661-R. Dr. H. K. Booth of Long Beach First Congregational church will be speaker.

BRIDGE CLUB HAS REUNION IN HOME

A little bridge club which disbanded years ago came together for a reunion party recently in the home of Mrs. J. C. Smith, 2454 Heliotrope drive.

Mrs. W. S. Thomson and Mrs. A. Tovaft scored in contract. The hostess served luncheon at a table appointed with sweet peas, nut-baskets and candles in yellow tones.

Other guests were Mesdames C. A. Johnson, A. M. O'Brien, George Miller, A. M. Anderson, S. R. Bowe, J. Vavra, U. H. Plavan, H. T. Dunning and H. D. McIlvain.

DIAMOND P.T.A. HAS MEETING

Regular business faced the Diamond Parent-Teacher association Tuesday at a meeting at the school.

First and second grades gave a group of songs and recitations were read by third grade students.

A description of the safety patrol by fifth and sixth graders concluded the program.

PATTERN 9780

Warm weather—out-of-doors weather—is hanging 'round the corner waiting to lure this dainty tub-cotton frock in your direction. And you'll waste no time in making it yours when you learn how little yardage, trimming and time it takes, by making it yourself. You won't find days at home the least bit dull when you know you're looking your prettiest every moment, and always smart to answer the door, or make a quick trip to neighbor's or grocer's. Note sketch which proves this frock has but four major pattern pieces, and could anything be easier than yokes and sleeves cut all together? Choose sturdy or sheer cotton print, seersucker, or crepe cotton. Complete, Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9780 may be ordered in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric. Send 15c in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

Be sure to send for our new spring pattern book! You'll be happy as a lark over the way it simplifies your clothes problems! Dozens of easy-to-make, flattering designs—smart both for now and later in the season. News of Spring fabrics and accessories. Special slenderizing designs. Clothes budget hints. Patterns for children, misses, adults. Price of book 15c. Book and pattern together, 25c.

Send your order to The Journal, Pattern Department, 117 East 5th street, Santa Ana.

VARIED ACTIVITIES IN MISSION FIELD TOLD M. E. GROUP

"Toward a Christian America" by H. N. Morse was the book chosen by Miss Verna Ramsey of the Santa Ana Public library, in her review of outstanding religious texts, before the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church Wednesday afternoon.

It is to be used as a study book, bringing to the society the history of the origin and founding of their society and its progress through the years which followed. To supplement the book, Miss Ramsey suggested the following bibliography: "Epic of America" and "March of Democracy," by James Truslow Adams; "Rise of American Civilization," by Charles and Mary Beard; "Jason Lee" and "Profit of the New Oregon," by Cornelius Brosnau; "Religious Background of American Culture," by Thomas C. Hall; "Heroes of the Cross in America," by D. O. Shelton; "Shelton Jackson," by Robert Laird Stewart.

Mrs. H. W. Guthrie told of work being done for homes, schools and settlements on the east coast, and Mrs. S. M. Davis reviewed the cooperative movement as explained in the April issue of "Home Missions." Mrs. John Clarkson made a report on the "World's Day of Prayer" and urged that next month's federated prayer meeting be well attended.

Mrs. R. L. Lutes was hostess for the day.

PATTY MILLER NAMED PUBLICITY CHAIRMAN FOR GIRLS' EBELL

That Miss Patty Miller will have the task of publicizing Santa Ana Girls' Ebells activities for the coming year was announced today by the new president, Miss Barbara Davis.

Miss Davis is working now on the appointment of an historian for the group.

BRIDGE KNITTERS VISIT ORANGE HOME

Members of the bridge Knitters' club spent Wednesday evening partying in the home of Miss Leona Wunderlich, Orange.

Miss Theresa Haughness, Mrs. Ben Larimer and Mrs. Fred Wahl won prizes in bridge. Sweet peas decorated the tables in the dessert hour.

Also present were Misses Nora Wunderlich, Mary Kraft, Genevieve Hanson, Malinda Miller, and Angeline Haughness and Mesdames Cornish Roehm, Ernest Harms and Richard Hubbell.

HAPPY DAY SPENT BY FRIENDLY GROUP

It all started as a Feb. 29 birthday celebration for Mrs. Edna Stevenson, and it turned into a gay motor trek along the Southland beaches from Laguna Beach almost to Ventura!

Mrs. Will J. Lindsay, Mrs. Dave McBurney, Miss Minnie Cowan and Mrs. J. T. Raitt also were in the party. They had luncheon under the trees at Pacific Palisades and returned by way of Beverly Hills and Los Angeles.

HUSBANDS BUZZING PLANS FOR PARTY

Husbands of Woman's club members will rise to pinpoints of glory when they give a party for their wives, Tuesday evening, March 31, in the Veterans hall.

The boys won't tell what they're planning, but their wives are expecting a jolly program and an entertaining evening.

Mrs. Valley Again Plans Book Talk

Another Monday brings another talk by Mrs. Jack Valley for Santa Ana Valley Ebells society.

Two o'clock in the afternoon is the scheduled hour for her talk. Mrs. Fred Rowland will preside and introduce the speaker, whose exhaustive study of world and political affairs as well as of the field of literature provides a wealth of pleasure and informative matter for the Santa Ana clubwomen.

Mrs. Valley's program, presented by the courtesy of the Santa Ana Book Store, follows:

"I believe that if we put our questions with sufficient accuracy the correct answers will not be denied."—Herbert Agar. "Land of the Free," Herbert Agar; "Hell Bent for Election," James Warburg; "Inside Europe," John Gunther; "The Way of a Hangar," Negley Farson; "Apache Agent," Woodworth Clum; "Fog and Men, and Bering Sea," Max Miller; "Sky Gypsy," Claudia Cranston; "Here Lies a Most Beautiful Lady," Richard Blaker; "A Time for Love," Ramona Herdman; "Faster! Faster!" E. M. Delafield; "Parnell," Elsie Schaffner.

REV. P. G. N. AUSTIN ADDRESSES WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

The Rev. Perry G. N. Austin of St. Luke's Episcopal church in Long Beach took "Radio Experiences" for his topic at Wednesday's meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the church.

The Rev. Mr. Austin broadcasts each Sunday over KFOX, the only Episcopal service regularly broadcast west of Chicago. Miss Minnie Besser, president of the auxiliary, introduced him.

The meeting at 1 o'clock was preceded by the first of the weekly public Lenten luncheons, served Wednesdays from 11:30 to 1 o'clock.

Those in charge were Mrs. A. H. T. Taylor, Mrs. Frank Mathews, Mrs. Charles Riggs and Mrs. Glenn S. Warner. Tables for the luncheon had been centered with bright bowls of ranunculus. Decorations were arranged by Mrs. Noah Wilson and her committee, including Mrs. Roy Vincent of Huntington Beach, Mrs. William Wade, Mrs. James Hird, Mrs. W. E. Almas and Mrs. G. S. Richardson.

WEDDING CHAPEL SCENE OF QUIET RITES TUESDAY

Eight o'clock services at the Santa Ana Wedding chapel, Tuesday night, were the setting for the marriage of Miss Wanda Shirley, lately of Fiat Rock, Ind., and Ben F. Klippel, Costa Mesa.

The Rev. Earl C. Bloss, resident pastor, read the vows. The bride had chosen a gray silk ensemble with a corsage of gardenias. Her father, George Shirley, gave her in marriage. Her attendant, Miss Frances Shirley, her sister, wore a flowered blue crepe. Gail S. Klippel, brother of the bridegroom, was his best man.

Mrs. Raymond Warren of Orange played the wedding marches. Following the service they left for a trip in the north of the state. They will be at home in Huntington Beach, after April 1, where Mr. Klippel is employed in the oil fields.

EUNICE HOFFMAN FETED AT SHOWER

Miss Eunice Hoffman, who is to be married tomorrow to Ed Gaebe, was feted at an exceptionally pretty shower party yesterday afternoon given by Mrs. Alvin Nowotny in her home on West Sixth street.

Quantities of feathery maiden-hair fern combined with pink sweet peas to make a spring-like setting for the dessert course served before the bridge play. Green wedding bells were molded in the ices served.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Thorne, Santa Ana, and Mrs. D. W. Thorne of Grand Rapids, Mich., who will leave soon for her home. Mr. Thorne is expected here next week to accompany her home after spending a few days visiting his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Thorne. During the evening, Harold and Lavonne Cole entertained with music.

MRS. ROBERT MILLER FOURSOME HOSTESS

Mrs. Robert A. Miller hosted a foursome at luncheon and contract bridge yesterday in her home.

H. B. Rapp Home Sees Parties

Mrs. H. B. Rapp's lovely new home at 1816 North Greenleaf street provided a delightful setting for two parties at which she and two of her friends entertained Wednesday and yesterday.

Yesterday it was Mrs. Wade Warner who shared in the hostessing. Flowers from the gardens of Mrs. R. C. Holmes, Mrs. James Irvine and Mrs. R. M. Daniels won prizes for bridge high scores.

Wednesday's party featured fragrant flowers sent by Mesdames T. R. Trawick, R. W. Weston, Byron V. Curry, John McCarty and F. L. Andrews. Mrs. Don Andrews shared the hostess duties with Mrs. Rapp.

In her first two parties, given before Christmas to start the entertaining series just continued, Mrs. Rapp used the same delightful prizes, flattery little organdie aprons, which she herself made.

Prize winners in the first party were Mesdames Hugh Shields, T. R. Trawick and Joe Steele. In the second, Mesdames Paul Ragan, Don Andrews and Frederick Elliott received prizes.

HOME TO HOME TREK BY LAS MENINAS AT PLEDGE PARTY

Las Meninas spent a busy evening this week progressing from home to home when they had a dinner and pledging party, appointments for which followed a seasonal holiday theme.

The cocktail course was a Hal-lowe'en party in the home of Erlene Farmer on South Parton street. Next, soup was served in a Christmas setting at Dorothy Van Dusen's home on Oak street.

Easter bunnies held sway at Lewellyn Allen's home on Main street, Tustin, when the entree was served. Dessert was in July fourth patriotic theme at Helena Bailey's, on East Washington avenue.

Labor day was the motif in the dessert hour at Eloise Walker's, East Bishop street, and appropriately so, for the four pledges gave an amusing "amateur night" program. They are Margaret Kelly, Dorothy Jenkins, Jean Strahle, Velma Kuchel and Kay Blace.

Bernice Granas acted as pledge-mistress.

FORMER RESIDENT ENTERTAINS CLUB

Mrs. L. Allen Wallace, whose home formerly was in Santa Ana and now is in Torrance, motored down to entertain her contract bridge club with a luncheon in the Doris Kathryn tearoom Wednesday.

Pastel stocks appointed the luncheon table at which she and Mesdames W. H. Wright, L. K. King, K. H. Sutherland, Clarence Nissen, Orlyn Robertson, Frances Fisher, George Kenneth Scovel and Robert Mize were seated. Mrs. Fisher scored high in contract.

The group learned that Mrs. Wallace's brother-in-law and two sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Hombome and Miss Kate Luxton of Walton-in-Thames, England, are en route to the Southland for a visit before continuing around the world on a leisurely jaunt.

The English guests will visit Mr. and Mrs. Alan A. Revill in Santa Ana. The Revills visited them last summer in England.

ALBERT COLES HOSTS AT DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cole entertained with a dinner party Tuesday evening in their home at 832 North Van Ness street.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Thorne, Santa Ana, and Mrs. D. W. Thorne of Grand Rapids, Mich., who will leave soon for her home. Mr. Thorne is expected here next week to accompany her home after spending a few days visiting his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Thorne. During the evening, Harold and Lavonne Cole entertained with music.

MRS. ROBERT MILLER FOURSOME HOSTESS

Mrs. Robert A. Miller hosted a foursome at luncheon and contract bridge yesterday in her home.

Mary Stoddard No Woman Is a Good Housekeeper Unless She Keeps Herself Neat and Trim, Too

By MARY STODDARD
Many readers are finding the problem of "Perplexed Husband," which appeared in this column recently, interesting discussion matter.

How may he convince his young and pretty wife that she should pay a little more attention to her personal appearance? She's a good housekeeper and a good cook, but doesn't give a hang whether her skirts hang even, whether her hose are on straight, and why, a run in them just means nothing in her sweet young life, whether she's entertaining friends at home or shopping on Fifth avenue!

"Well, why try to convince her that she should be any other way?" answered "Mr. Fifty-seven," who went on to advise the "Perplexed Husband" that he is a mighty lucky man, but doesn't know it.

Dear Miss Stoddard: I would like to add my few words in regard to the problem of "Perplexed Husband." I disagree particularly with the reply of Mr. Fifty-seven.

I do not personally consider any woman a good housekeeper, no matter how immaculate she keeps her home or how well she prepares her meals, unless she has some pride in her personal appearance. It costs very little if anything to comb your hair and iron your clothes. I was taught in school to be particular about my personal appearance, at least to be neat and clean, and I fully admire anyone who is.

Here is my question to you, "Mr. Fifty-seven": Would you be proud of your wife, if you have one, in public if she neglected herself as does "Perplexed Husband's" wife?

MISS HAZEL OLIPHANT ENTERTAINS MEMBERS OF PHI OMEGA

Phi Omega sorority sisters of Miss Hazel Oliphant were entertained by her at a pleasant party Wednesday evening in her home on South Birch street.

Miss Jane McBurney, president, conducted a business session in which plans were made for a houseparty to be given soon at Mrs. Boyle's home at Laguna Beach.

After the business meeting the group played bridge. Mrs. Boyle and Miss Margaret Perry won prizes. Pastry and cheese were served by the hostess.

Other guests were Misses Ruth McBurney, Alice Nelson, Willa Bradford, Margaret Perry, Jean Upshall and pledge, Gertrude Vaughan.

EUGENE THOMASES HOSTS TO CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thomas entertained their club at a dinner party Wednesday evening in their home on Newport road.

Each guest contributed to the menu served at small tables. St. Patrick's tales were used in bridge. Mrs. Fred Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and Edward Moore held high scores.

Guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Fred Nelson, Harvey Bennett, Raymond Prothro, George Veeh and Edward Moore.

NEWPORT BEACH IS VISITED BY GROUP

Not the billowy deep, but reciprocity pay for Newport Beach Ebells lured Santa Ana clubwomen to the beach yesterday.

Mrs. Fred Rowland, Mrs. Emrys D. White, Mrs. Paul Bailey and Mrs. Terry Stephenson went from Santa Ana Ebells, and Mrs. E. M. Waycott, Mrs. R. G. Carman and Mrs. James McCracken, from the woman's club of Santa Ana.

ASA HOFFMANS ARE HOSTS TO CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Hoffman entertained recently in their home on North Broadway with the latest party for their bridge supper club.

The group enjoyed seeing the trousseau and shower gift array of the hosts' daughter, Eunice, who is to be married tomorrow to Ed Gaebe.

After the informal supper Mr. and Mrs. Aschel Hardy and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nowotny won prizes in bridge. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Kloess.

Rookies Await Axe; Jack Lelivelt's Boys Collect

By the Associated Press
SANTA MONICA.—Ruth Reuther sent his Seattle Indians into another lengthy workout today in preparation for Sunday's initial spring exhibition game with the Chicago White Sox.

A pair of circuit clouts by Herman Michael and Al Wright and a ninth-inning rally featured yesterday's first practice tilt, the regulars winning over the Yankigans 4 to 3.

RIVERSIDE.—Forty-three anxious rookies paced around town today, wondering whether they'll get a renewed chance to make the Sacramento Coast league baseball team.

Three of the original 46, Sidney Stringfellow, Taft, a shortstop; Manuel Alverney, Fresno, pitcher; and Louis Salatch, catcher, Los Angeles, were definitely chosen to the team.

Jack Lelivelt remain with the Senators throughout the training period, with a chance of landing a regular contract.

Ten more probably will be retained, and the rest sent to various Cardinal farms.

SAN BERNARDINO.—The Angels liked their first spring practice game so well Manager Jack Lelivelt is letting them play again today.

The Los Angeles regulars steamed up in the fourth inning of yesterday's initial game, chasing in eight runs against the rookies and sending Ralph Aubert to the showers. Steve Mesner was responsible for three, poling the ball over the wall with two mates on base.

John Marsden and Doug Wheeler worked the mound for the regulars.

Coming Back!

Frank Wykoff, retired "world's fastest human," above, who still holds the official world's record for the 100-yard dash at 9.25 seconds, plans to start his comeback at Long Beach Saturday. Wykoff will run the century in the annual Long Beach relays. He hopes to land a berth with the Olympic team this year.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 6. (AP)—Right off the bat: Joe McCarthy says if Charlie Ruffing throws for the Yanks this year he'll have to sign at the club's figure . . . and like it . . . cousin Ed Barrow may have to open, sure enough . . . tipoff: Ruffing, who swore he'd be on his way to Chicago if the Yanks didn't adjust his contract in 24 hours, still is around enjoying the sun—beg pardon rain . . . Casey Stengel visited the Yanks yesterday, presumably to get away from the Dodgers. He looks more mournful than ever . . . The dope from Clearwater is the Dodgers are nothing else but.

Dizzy Dean doesn't need advice, but when this bureau first saw Catcher Virgil Davis, the first thought was: "What great big fists you've got, grandpa." . . . St. Peter, Independent prints a swell group picture of four golf champions . . . From left to right, Johnny Revolta, Lawson Little, Jr., Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare and Sam Parks, Jr. . . . ### Derby Entrants In Florida Derby

MIAMI, Fla., March 6. (AP)—Eligibility of 25 of the 94 horses named for the $20,000 added Florida Derby at Hialeah park tomorrow to run in the Kentucky Derby May 2, drew the turf spotlight today to the mile and one-furlong classic here.

Recognized as a stepping stone for the Churchill Downs event, the Hialeah feature will see the Kentucky Derby favorite, Brevity, parade to the post in the colors of Joseph E. Widener, president of the Miami Jockey club.

Two other highly-regarded candidates for the blue grass stake, Cornelius Vanderbilt's Bright Plumage and George H. Bostwick's imported Mont Blanc, probably will run at Hialeah.

Other Florida Derby nominees eligible for the Kentucky race are Black Highbrow, Brilliant Light, Captain Cal, Ceiling, Challenge, Crossbow II, Dnieper, Emilio, Galmica, Galsac, Go Home, Higher Cloud, Indian Brown, Isolated, Maeriel, Old Comrade, Rai Hai, Sachem, Svbyliend, Tintagel and York.

VAN RYN AND ALLISON?

By BOB CAVAGNARO

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, March 6. (AP)—It may be a case of the wish fathering the thought, but Johnny Van Ryn expects to play doubles in tennis with Wilmer Allison again this year.

The U. S. Lawn Tennis association's cup committee will have the final say insofar as the international team is concerned. There is a feeling in some quarters that Allison should not be taxed again with the task of playing both singles and doubles.

"The theory is that it's too much physically to expect of Wilmer is wrong," said Johnny. "He thrives on competition, and, after all, there is a day of rest between his first singles match and the doubles match."

"Whatever happens, Wilmer and I will play together next summer even if we aren't chosen for the Davis cup doubles assignment. I have no thought of teaming up with anyone else."

Van Ryn is playing in the current national indoor championship at the Seventh Regiment armory here with Gregory Mangin, and there has been some gossip the pair may make a bid for the cup berth.

Allison and Van Ryn are ranked No. 1 in the nation, followed in order by Don Budge and Gene Mako, the Californians, and Wilmer Hines of Columbia, S. C., and Henry Culey of Santa Barbara, Calif. Budge and Mako are working out on the Pacific coast, while Hines and Culey are seeded No. 1 in the indoor championship.

Carnera Is Rated 2-1 Over Izzy

NEW YORK, March 6. (AP)—Regardless of rumors, Primo Carnera, the former heavyweight champion, is expected to take his 260 pounds into the ring at Madison Square Garden tonight for a 10-round bout with Izzy Gastanaga of Cuba.

Racing Notes

By the Associated Press

A movie type camera finish device and a simplified walk-up starting gate have been demonstrated to racing officials and horsemen at Tropical Park, where the scene of Florida racing shifts Tuesday after Hialeah Park closes.

"We will do everything possible to stimulate interest in the development of a practical camera-eye finish machine," said William Dwyer, head of the Coral Gables Racing Association. "After a week of experimenting in actual racing, we will make our final selection between the movie camera and the still machine."

The list of Kentucky Derby nominees has been out less than a week, but already the odds on Hal Price Headley's Hollywood have dropped four points to 8-1 in the book being conducted by Frank Cosgrove of New York. The New York bookmakers report a heavy play on Hollywood while holding Brevity the favorite.

BABCOCK, BARTOSH TOP PASADENA, March 6. (AP)—Carolyn Babcock and Dr. Gerald Bartosh top the seeded players in the mixed doubles for the annual Hotel Huntington invitational tennis meet here this week-end. As expected, Donald Budge, of Oakland, was top seeded in the men's singles, with Gene Maio next.

BANK CHIEFS HONOR NEW MANAGER

C. A. Warren, recently appointed vice president and manager of the Bank of America here, was honored last night at a banquet in the Green Cat cafe, attended by more than 50 officials of the Bank of America's 10 branches in Orange county. H. H. Benjamin, vice president and manager of the bank's Anaheim branch, acted as toastmaster. Local advisory board members, and officials from the Los Angeles headquarters of the bank also were in attendance.

Guests also included F. D. Hevener, vice president, and J. C. Gibson, cashier, Citizens Bank of Laguna Beach. The acquisition of this institution by Bank of America was announced yesterday.

The following officials from the bank's Los Angeles headquarters were present: R. L. Rehner, vice president, district five; J. E. McGuigan, vice president and trust officer; H. M. Bart, trust officer; J. A. Purdy and Henry Chandler, assistant vice presidents; Ivan E. Hart, assistant personnel director; and Winfield Barkley, assistant manager, advertising and publicity.

Dwight L. Clarke, executive vice president, Occidental Life Insurance company, and J. A. Blanchette, district manager, Associated American Distributors, represented their respective organizations.

KEATON FINED $50
HOLLYWOOD, March 6 (AP)—Buster Keaton's pocketbook was $50 lighter today. The film comedian paid the $50 in traffic court Wednesday, accused of speeding 70 miles an hour through traffic lights and a school zone.

Some Folks Expect Too Much of the Charm Analyst

By FRANCES TIPTON LONG
Noted Authority on Charm and Personality

Today I want to try to clear up some of the misunderstanding about graphology, or handwriting analysis, as it is popularly called. This science appears to occupy a very peculiar niche in the minds of many. Either they look upon it as some form of mysticism or fortune telling, or they sum it up in one short and rather terrible word—fake.

Handwriting analysis, as has been proved over and over again, correctly points out the strengths and frailties of human nature, the good things and the bad. The person desiring to know the truth about himself can learn it through graphology.

Not Fortune Telling
But, in spite of everything, some people insist upon confusing me with seers. Just the other day a letter reached me from a man who asked whether or not there is oil on his land. Probably there is—in his garage. But I may hardly dare to tell him that. Another party wanted to know when she was going to die. Such a cheerful soul!

Handwriting analysis cannot answer such questions as these. But there is a lighter side to it. Time after time I receive letters saying, "I think it's all the bunk, but here's my handwriting. Let's see what you can do with it." And another writes, "Please tell me my good points—if any. I know my bad ones." During a personal appearance in a store I informed one woman that she was a dreamer, meaning, of course, a day dreamer. She smiled and answered, "Yes, I do dream almost every night." Another woman asked me why her cat died, expecting me to answer her by a study of her handwriting. Not to be outdone, I informed her, "It died of heart failure." She looked at me quite seriously and replied, "Well, I would have sworn it was poisoned."

It's Not a Fake
Is graphology a fake, or is there really something to it. No one whose handwriting has been analyzed by a competent graphologist will ever ask that question. For the benefit of those who may doubt, let me say that graphology is taught as a scientific study in several of the world's leading universities abroad, and it is included in the psychology classes of at least three American colleges. A number of the largest corporations in the United States retain staff graphologists whose duty it is to study applicants of individuals with whom contacts are contemplated, or employees scheduled for promotion or dismissal, to the end

Lindy's Grandma? Nope, It's Only Amelia Earhart

MIAMI, Fla., March 6 (AP)—Amelia Earhart Putnam, first woman to fly the Atlantic and holder of many an air record, knows that "fame is fleeting."

"I've been mistaken for many persons and seldom for myself," she told an audience here. "I've been congratulated on swimming the English channel and mistaken for virtually everybody, from Mabel Walker Willebrandt to Col. Lindbergh's grandmother."

CONTEST BEGUN BY OSWALD'S

Ten pairs of theater tickets are to be given away by Oswald's Fourth Street Market, 307 East Fourth street, to the 10 persons turning in the best answers to the question, "Why are more people preferring to trade at Oswald's?" The market has enjoyed in the past month a 30 per cent increase in its business, and in order to further cooperate with its many customers, the management would like the reasons why they trade at this market.

Manager of the grocery department, "Dick" Klaus, said short answers would be preferred with no need for fine writing. The contest will close Thursday noon, March 12, and announcement of the winners will be made in the market's Journal ad the following day.

George Apel, in charge of the meat department, feels that the contest will enable the market to more quickly respond to any needs or desires on the part of the public, and suggest criticism as well.

The judges for the contest will be Ellen Sweeney, society editor of The Journal; Les Fountain, manager of the West Coast Theaters in Santa Ana; and Paul Thibaud, manager of the Thrift Department Store.

Although it has its humorous side, handwriting analysis is, after all, a serious matter. And many people, judging from the letters I receive, realize this. A young man studying law desires to know whether his character inherently fits him for the legal profession. A mother writes to learn if her daughter, who is attending business college, is suited for a commercial career. A young woman wants to know whether or not her character traits fit her for meeting the public.

A man writes to find out about the character of a prospective partner. A self-conscious girl wants to know what appeal to use to make her more popular. A boy sends his sweetheart's handwriting for analysis—there's a cautious lad! And a young woman office worker sends the handwriting of her employer. She wants to know all about him so she can please him and win promotion.

Handwriting analysis does answer questions like these. And does it accurately, as thousands will testify.

DON'T DELAY
Mrs. Long's valuable and interesting articles are drawing to an end. Only a few more will appear and then her special offer will be withdrawn. If you haven't already written to her for a Charm Analysis of your personality, do it today. Your opportunity will soon be gone.

Your handwriting reveals the development of your charm and personality, whether it be the charm of youth or age. Notice that, in her coupon, Mrs. Long requires data as to age as well as a sample of handwriting. This information is carefully considered in the light of the appearance of the handwriting and the physical appearance, one of the reasons for the startling accuracy of her work.

Write to her today, while you still have the opportunity, and be sure to fill in every line of the coupon. In addition to her confidential, expert analysis, she will send you her valuable Charm Chart and helpful Vocational Suggestions as well as specifically point out your best type of appeal.

"Paths of Glory"

By HUMPHREY COBB

Fuming with rage because the crack 1st Regiment had been stopped in its tracks, few getting beyond their own wire, when a counter-barrage halted them to the French trenches at zero hour on a spring dawn in 1915, General Assolant ("Old Sharkface" to the troops) has ordered all the survivors under arrest. Assolant had promised his army commander to deliver The Purple "for lunch" that day. The Purple was a German strong point that had been captured in a recent campaign. In a futile attempt "to straighten that record," the 1st Regiment was led to a fearful slaughter on that rainy dawn. Assolant, anxious for another star to add to his decorations, was so enraged that he ordered the artillery in the rear to fire on his own troops but the battery commander, Capt. Pelletier, refused to do so without a written order. Later in the day, the remnants of the 1st are marching back to the Chateau de l'Aigle under arrest and firing squad runners are spreading about Assolant's wrath. They meet some mounted Dragons...

CHAPTER XIX

The regiment had turned off the avenue of poplars to the right and was making for the woods, fifty meters or so away. They could see the nearest huts just beyond the line of the trees and, in front of the entrance to the camp, a group of mounted

Dragons. The cavalry had very much the look of a reception committee, but not an effusive one, it must be admitted.

The column passed between the ranks of the Dragons, who stared at them with a cold curiosity, then disappeared into the wood. They soon found out what the guard of honor was for when they lined up in their company areas before being dismissed to their billets. Company commanders read out the following order:

"The regiment is under collective arrest and will remain confined to quarters until further notice. The camp is under guard and any man attempting to leave it without a pass will be shot at sight."

The presence of the Dragons was Assolant's fourth and retrospective reason for being satisfied with the Chateau de l'Aigle. Captain Pelletier finished his coffee at the Cafe du Carrefour and asked the old woman how much he owed her.

"Five sous," she said. Pelletier put the money down and lighted a cigarette.

"Going on leave?" she asked as she picked up the coins. It was the first purely conversational question she had asked anybody in several weeks.

"Yes," said Pelletier.

"Ten days?" she said.

"No, longer than that, I think," said Pelletier, smiling half at her half to himself. He looked very young, very tired, and very dirty. The old woman saw his pallor, the taut muscles around his mouth, the glassiness of his eyes.

She noticed, too, that his movements and gestures began jerkily and ended listlessly.

"Been in a long time," she asked.

"Too long," he answered.

"Have another coffee with some cognac in it," she suggested.

"No, thank you, I must be going."

"If you wait a half hour, the empty ammunition trucks will be passing on their way back to railroad."

"Thank you, but I think I'll start walking. The exercise will do me good."

"It's a bad day."

"Well, good luck to you, young man."

"Thank you, I shall need it. And the same to you."

"Au revoir, captain."

"Adieu, madame."

When General de Guerville, chief of staff of the Fifteenth Army, entered Assolant's office at Divisional Headquarters shortly before noon, he had the feeling for a moment that he was interrupting a court martial, as much did the scene resemble one. He found General Assolant seated behind the long table which served him for a desk. On his left was the divisional chief of staff, Colonel Couderc, and on his right an empty chair. In front of the table stood a group of officers, in such a manner that they were all looking at him. He stood two nights before to express his misgivings about the attack to the army commander. Whatever was being said was silenced by Assolant's rising to greet de Guerville. Everyone clicked his heels and saluted.

"Good morning, General. Good morning, gentlemen," said de Guerville affably, as he advanced into the room towards the empty chair which Couderc was holding for him. "A nasty day. Please don't let me interrupt you."

"Good morning, sir," said Assolant. "Allow me to present these officers. Colonel Couderc, I think is known to you. Colonel Dax, commanding the 1st Regiment of the line, Colonel Labouchere, one of my staff. Captain Herbillon, Colonel Dax's adjutant."

There was more heel clicking and saluting, even by Saint-Auban and two other junior officers whom Assolant had not bothered to introduce.

"Please don't let me interrupt you," said de Guerville. Dax took him at his word and addressing himself to Assolant, from whom he had received a nod, plunged right in again where he had been stopped.

"I repeat, sir, I insist it was not mutiny."

"I order an attack and your troops refuse to attack. What's that if it isn't mutiny?"

"My troops did attack, sir, but they could make no headway."

"Because they didn't even try. I saw it myself you know, from the observation post. Three-quarters of the regiment never left the jumping-off positions."

"Two-thirds of the regiment was in support, sir. Not even in the front line."

"I mean battalion, of course. Please don't quibble. By the way, he ought to be here."

"Major Vignon? He was killed. By our own barrage. Several shells fell short. I'm going to make a report of it as soon as I have time. That was another thing, sir."

"Will you please stick to the point, Dax. Which is that your First Battalion failed to advance as ordered and that, as I've already repeated several times, I'm going to have one section from each company executed. I call that lenient. The whole battalion should be right—"

"Lenient, you cannot mean it, sir. And the men did advance. By God, we had almost 50 per cent casualties."

"Yes, in our own trenches, Dax. For that many we should have been on the other side of the Pimple."

"It seems to me, Assolant," de Guerville put in, "that the casualties prove the fire was heavy, even if most of them happened in the jumping-off positions."

"Yes," said Assolant, "but the point is that the men failed to advance. They should have gotten themselves killed outside the trenches instead of inside."

"They weren't choosing where to be killed," said Dax. "The Germans were doing that for them."

"They didn't advance. Can't you understand that?" said Assolant.

"Yes, sir," said Dax. "But you say they refused to advance and I say they couldn't advance. It was physically impossible. In spite of that, many of them did manage to go a few meters. Some of them were literally blown back into their own trench." Dax, thinking he had found an ally in de Guerville, had turned and finished his remarks to him.

"Oh," said de Guerville, hastily disclaiming the alliance, "we must have some examples."

"Absolutely," Assolant agreed.

"A section from each company."

"That's somewhat excessive," I think, general," said de Guerville.

"Well, what do you suggest, sir," said Assolant.

"Oh, say ten men from each company, forty."

"That's practically a section," said Dax, "with the strength of the battalion what it is now."

"Aren't you exaggerating a bit, colonel," said de Guerville, smiling pleasantly.

"If it's an example you want, sir," Dax went on, "one man will do as well as a hundred. But I wouldn't know how to choose him. I'd have to offer myself. After all, I'm the responsible officer."

"Come, come, colonel," said de Guerville, "I think you're overwrought. It isn't a question of officers."

"Well, why shouldn't it be?" Dax asked. He had noticed that de Guerville was disquieted by the suggestion, and he was pressing the point. De Guerville, in truth, didn't like the turn the discussion was taking at all. He quickly decided on the paradoxical maneuver of retreating from and at the same time ignoring Dax's attack. He turned to Assolant and said:

"Suppose we make it a dozen. We won't say it was mutiny. It would be just as well, I think, to keep that troublesome word out of it. Just cowardice in the face of the enemy."

"I was talking about four sections," said Assolant, "and here we are down to one squad already..."

"I implore you, gentlemen," Dax broke in, no longer wishing to restrain himself now that he felt he had de Guerville on the run. "A dozen men! A dozen men, like a dozen head of cattle. It's monstrous! Either the whole battalion is guilty or I alone am. But think of our record, of our fourrageres, of what we've just been through at Sochez. Of the condition of the men. Of the rain. And of the murderous Boche fire. The general sampled some of it himself, yesterday. If it's an example you must have, will not one man do? But twelve men! Who knows which ones they will be? Where do they come from? What connections they may have? It was impossible. On my honor, gentlemen, they weren't cowards far from it. They were heroes..."

De Guerville interrupted again. One of Dax's remarks had struck his ear and had remained there: "Who knows what connections they may have." De Guerville did not like the possibilities evoked by that phrase. The chances were, he was forced to admit, that a dozen men would have more connections than a lesser number. And these connections would be more widely scattered in the ranks. An interpellation in the chamber would...

"I think on the whole, Assolant, that we'd better fix on one man from each company. That'll make four."

"But sir..." Assolant began.

"No buts, general. My mind is made up."

"If you insist, sir, then I'm forced to yield. But only because you speak with higher authority."

"Yes," said Assolant, "I insist, Assolant. No more than four."

"Very well, then, I'll have to content myself with four. A man from each company, Dax, to be shot tomorrow. Is that clear?"

"But without trial, sir?"

"Oh, no. The court martial will meet at the chateau at three this afternoon. There'll be convenient for you, won't it, Labouchere?"

SMITH TO GET HOLOHAN JOB

BAKERSFIELD, March 6.—(AP) Judge T. N. Harvey, chairman of the state prison board, has called a meeting of the board for Saturday at 10 a. m. at San Quentin prison.

Judge Harvey said that in all probability Warden Court Smith of Folsom prison will be appointed warden at San Quentin, replacing James Holohan, who recently resigned.

No successor to Warden Smith at Folsom has been determined upon yet, said Judge Harvey.

PLANE CRASH KILLS 2

RICH MOUNTAIN, Ark., March 6.—(AP)—Two men killed in the crash of a private plane that burned on Rich Mountain yesterday were identified as Harley E. Woodward, 34, millionaire oil man of Houston, Texas, and his cousin, Edward Martin, Daisetta, Texas.

Maybe Exercise Made Denver's Cops Too Hungry

DENVER, March 6.—(AP)—Several weeks ago Mayor Ben Stapleton looked with displeasure along the belt line of his police department.

The force, he decided, was getting too fat. So he ordered special "weight reducing classes" for the department.

At the first weighing in several weeks later, 90 per cent had gained weight.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 6.—(AP)—The name of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho was placed on the Nebraska Republican presidential preference ballot yesterday.

DAMAGES FOR TWO WOMEN

Mrs. Buelah Haskett and Mrs. Jean T. Templeton, Los Angeles, who had asked an aggregate of $76,349 damages, were awarded total damages of $2200 yesterday afternoon in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court.

The two women, mother and daughter, had sued Leonard Tanner and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Tanner, Fullerton, as a result of injuries sustained on October 27, 1935, when their car and that driven by Leonard Tanner, a minor, were involved in an accident at Manchester avenue and Stanton road.

Mrs. Haskett, who had asked $25,350, was awarded $1000 by the jury, and Mrs. Templeton, who had asked $50,999, was awarded $1200.

SUGGESTS:

Salmon, King of Fishes

Tachavitscha (Indian for salmon) has long held the title of "King"! The known history of salmon dates from the time of the cave man some ten to fifteen thousand years before the birth of Christ. Carvings of salmon on reindeer bone have been found in the south of France to prove that this mighty fish has been considered a valuable food from almost the beginning of time.

Today, salmon from the Pacific ocean furnish most of the world's supply of this delicacy. It is one of those foods, which are as popular as canned salmon. And it is an excellent staple to keep in the pantry for emergency entertaining! It has all the necessary factors for producing attractive dishes, for it has color, flavor and pleasing texture.

Added to the intrinsic goodness of canned salmon, it is a relatively inexpensive source of excellent protein. Certain varieties are extra rich in vitamin A while all varieties contain considerable vitamin D and G as well as abundant amounts of those essential minerals calcium, phosphorus and iodine.

When cooking salmon one-third of a pound should be allowed for each person. In opening a can of salmon do not discard the liquor surrounding the salmon as it adds flavor and richness to the dish. As the salmon is packed dry when canning this liquor is the natural oil and juice of the fish.

One of the easiest to prepare and yet most elaborate looking of party dishes is the following Salmon Loaf. It may be served as the main course at a luncheon or it may grace the center of a buffet supper table. Instead of serving it as a loaf this creamy salmon mixture may be poured into a fancy mold or a ring mold. When served it should be attractively

A HOME YOUR OWN

A college professor recently said: "I'm not at all sure it's a fine thing for people to own their homes. The attempt to live up to the traditions of home ownership has done perhaps more than all other things to limit the mobility of salary and wage-earners."

But what's the significance of "mobility"? Is it necessary or desirable that salary- and wage-earners become nomads, wandering aimlessly over the face of the earth? Are they to be singled out for the role of tramps, as contrasted with the owners of business enterprises or farms? A home is the one tangible investment you can get more value per dollar from than any other.

A Smart Campaigner

GOVERNOR ALF LONDON, edging forward his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination, demonstrates the political wisdom of restraint in criticism and promises.

Other candidates have blown hot and cold as their cries about dictatorship, the New Deal, and the wreck of democracy captured the front page for a day and passed from the public mind the next.

Governor London, who yesterday entered the favorite son class, has kept his head. An example of his treatment of national problems from his recent address at Lincoln, Neb., shows that he does not intend to insult the intelligence of the voters in his forthcoming campaign.
Regarding relief, he said:

"Federal aid was obviously necessary in our recent emergency."

Then he hits the WPA program in its weakest spot
—its execution:

"Let us as Republicans make it clear to the needy everywhere that the changes we pledge will bring order out of chaos by purging the federal relief administration of partisanship, of waste and of incompetence. In short, what we propose is to make relief both honest and effective."

And then some common sense on federal finance:

"If we are overburdened by debt, we cannot go forward. In a word we must persevere until we have balanced our budget. After all, however liberal we are, whatever progressive instinct tempts and inspires us, common sense and sound policy tell us that we can only be as liberal as we can afford to be and pay our debts and live in decent self-respect . . ."

In most Republican oratory there has been that back-to-the-Old-Deal appeal. But not from London. He says:
"We cannot go back to the days before the depression. We must go forward, facing our new problems."

There are some things about the London candidacy which we do not like. Especially the Hearst and the reactionary attachments. But the Kansas governor apparently is wise and honest enough to stick to his own views of the national situation and not to run with the herd.

Not Patient Forever

OUR tax-levying legislators and executives should not feel too encouraged over the increased income tax returns as evidenced at the internal revenue office here.
We suspect that more people are filing returns and making payments merely because business is improving—and not because they like the tax any better.

With the federal income tax report deadline on March 16 and the new state income tax return deadline April 15, it is not surprising that as many citizens as possible are trying to get the unpleasant job out of the way.

It is an easy matter to keep on expanding the government and piling additional taxes on top of old ones. Improvement in general business conditions may make the load a little easier to bear for a while.

But more place there is a level of diminishing returns
—the more tax assessed, the less collected. Our tax-making officials should bear this in mind and seriously consider if it is wise to have no other bounds upon their impositions than the patience of the public.

And then there's that new musical cocktail that makes your head go 'round and a-round.

No More Delay

HAVING finally made up his mind, Governor Harold Hoffman of New Jersey announces that there will be no further reprieve for Bruno Hauptmann, convicted kidnap-slayer of the Lindbergh child.

Indeed, why should there be? The New Jersey executive has had every chance to prove his theory that Hauptmann committed the shocking crime with the help of an accomplice, and he has utterly failed. The state's case against the former convict stands unshaken. And the only result so far of Governor Hoffman's theorizing has been to draw a storm of criticism upon law enforcement and disharmony among legal agencies involved.

If this ridiculous state of affairs were allowed to continue, it would be only a matter of time until Haupt-mann's sentence were commuted to imprisonment, and then until he was paroled.

Bruno should pay the penalty for his misdeeds without further delay.

Anyhow, we are glad the politicians don't do in this country like they do in Japan. Or are we?

Character Building in Mass

WHEN 4,000 Boy Scouts from four western states gather for their regional camp at Camp Irvine next May, Orange county residents will get the chance to view a spectacular demonstration of what a character building organization can do.

So much pessimism is afloat over the attitude of many modern juveniles, that it will be reassuring to look in on a mass gathering of clean-cut youngsters who are representatives of America's finest. And it will be doubly reassuring to know that they are being trained by clear-minded adult leaders to keep themselves physically strong, mentally alert, and morally straight.

If all boys and girls could receive the advantages of training under the Scout law, or similar, much would be accomplished toward banishing misery from their lives and crime from society.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Thoughts while strolling: No one can be so showy with a violin as Rubinoff. A humorist the public rarely sees: H.

joke about her weight.
Shrewd lady!

With a bright yellow tie Grou-cho Marx could pass for F. A.
Mayor La Guardia is one of the sitters-on-one-foot. Like Charles Laughton and Col. Jos. Hatfield.
Giving away cash and autos has business beyond control in bars and night clubs. Wish Eugene O'Neill would quit being gloomy a while.

Frostbite smile among the movie stars: Spencer Tracy's. To every cop Edward Mulrooney is a symbol of the heights a "harness bull"
may attain by being on the level.
No one has ever given the finesse to official greetings Grover Whalen did.

Vincent Lopez has the glossiness of a seal coming up from a dive.
Slick looking fellow No. 2: George Wrangel, society scribbler. Another winter such as this and my share of New York goes to the first asker—with a moth-eaten raccoon coat to boot.

Probably no layman is so stoked with accurate medical knowledge as Henry L. Mencken. He can discuss the human anatomy like a lecturing professor and surgeons find that, given a complete history of a case, he becomes a really expert diagnostician. He can quote medical phrases as technical as cyclodias on the subject.

This learning came from living so close to Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore and being on friendly visiting terms with various staffs, plus a natural interest in physiology.
Most of his midnight companionships—the hour he likes to relax—are with physicians and surgeons sharing his favorite repast, pretzels, cheese and tall beakers of Pilsener.

Year after year the inevitable sign of Spring for New Yorkers is not the robin tugging at the Central Park worm, but rather the annual blurb of fashionable tailors. It reads about the same, the burden being that all men shortly are going to crack the cocoon in raiment that will pale the satins of the old minstrel parade. We shall fare forth, tra la, in mustard-toned vests, plum-hued pants and heliotrope jackets. There will probably be a dash of Indian yellow at our throats, dotted with ox-blood
red, and it would not be surprising if most of us carried pink sun parasols. And what happens every year? Most of the males go right
on selecting another blue serge suit. That's what happens.

Britain has more dresdy gadgets
in a day than America in a year.
The bank clerks in silk hats,
morning coats and ledger-ruled trousers. The white derbies, pullovers, the Cockney pearl buttons,
Ascot ties and so on without end.
I met up with a Londoner in downpour on a Loch Lomond boat
one time with various impedimenta
strapped over his shoulders, binoculars, telescopes, cameras, magnifying glasses, etc. But his coat is what I'm getting at. It started modestly around the neck, but on its way down it spread the circumference of Piccadilly Circus.
And could be hung with almost everything, including a kiddie car.
Long live the Burberry boys.

I was thinking today of the bird
on the aisle who used to snore
loudly through the song "Please Go Away and Let Me Sleep"
when the repertoire show came to town. And when the performer suddenly stopped, called for the bouncer and the disturber was roughly propelled to the back of the house, he would begin to sing
the chorus in a clear, high tenor.
All of us fell for the "plant" like a hod of brick. Fun at the crossroads.

Gene Ahern, the folksy cartoonist, who has America's finest set of etchings, decided not long ago to have a little rural retreat to vary life from his Hollywood home. He invites his friends for a house warming at ahem! "Lakeside View." Two days later he cancelled the invitations by telegraph. "I saw a fellow approaching the lake with a blotter," he explained.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, March 6. —
There is one government policy on which both Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt see eye to eye.

As a result of this apparent freak of politics, the nation is in a better position to resist the rampages of Mississippi valley floods
this spring.

Both Hoover and Roosevelt have been ardent advocates of flood control, both have pushed the flood control program.

Hoover started the 10-year flood control program along the Mississippi and its tributaries. Roosevelt continued it so vigorously that it will be completed in eight instead of 10 years.

Despite these preparations, the terrific volume of water expected to burst down the Mississippi will probably be a dash of Indian yellow at
our throats, dotted with ox-blood
red, and it would not be surprising if most of us carried pink sun
parasols. And what happens every year? Most of the males go right
on selecting another blue serge
suit. That's what happens.

Britain has more dresdy gadgets
in a day than America in a year.
The bank clerks in silk hats,
morning coats and ledger-ruled trousers. The white derbies, pull-
overs, the Cockney pearl buttons,
Ascot ties and so on without end.
I met up with a Londoner in
downpour on a Loch Lomond boat
one time with various impedimenta
strapped over his shoulders, binoculars, telescopes, cameras, magnifying glasses, etc. But his coat is what I'm getting at. It started modestly around the neck, but on
its way down it spread the circumference of Piccadilly Circus.
And could be hung with almost
everything, including a kiddie car.
Long live the Burberry boys.

I was thinking today of the bird
on the aisle who used to snore
loudly through the song "Please Go Away and Let Me Sleep"
when the repertoire show came to town. And when the performer
suddenly stopped, called for the
bouncer and the disturber was roughly propelled to the back of
the house, he would begin to sing
the chorus in a clear, high tenor.
All of us fell for the "plant" like
a hod of brick. Fun at the crossroads.

DYNAMITE STALINGERS
ALGIERS (AP)—Algiers, like America, has its startling problem and its method of ridding olive fields of the destructive birds is "direct action." An area of several acres which was a favorite roosting place, was dynamited recently and 31,000 stalingers, weighing almost three tons, were killed.

Every time it issued a statement,
Charlie pointed an accusing finger at the millionaire DuPonts, chief enthusiasts for Liberty.

To have entrenched wealth against you is a political asset, and the Republicans were the first to see this. Some of them actually complained to Democratic colleagues in congress that Michelson was unfair in linking them with the Liberty league. The league, they said, was conceived by wealthy Democrats. The Republicans had nothing to do with it.

Finally even the Liberty boys woke up. Hence the surcease of handouts.

FREE PRESS
Uncle Andy Mellon got a lucky break with the resignation of Charles Tamm from the board of tax appeals in the Mellon $3,000,000 income tax suit. But he did not dare so well when he applied pressure to influence newspaper accounts of his tax trial.

Best reports on the Pittsburgh trial came from F. Raymond Daniell, ace reporter of The New York Times. His stories were frank, full and forthright.

One day Frank Hogan, attorney for Harry Sinclair, Doheny and other millionaire clients, including Mellon, told Danell that the ex-secretary of the treasury would like to meet him.

Daniell replied that he would be glad to see Mr. Mellon after writing his story.

Finally Daniell had a brief talk with Mr. Mellon in the courtroom during a recess in the hearing and the conversation drifted around to The New York Times account of the tax trial. Mellon said he thought Daniell was giving the wrong impression although admitting that his accounts were factually correct.

"I'm not giving any impressions," retorted Daniell, "I'm writing news."

Mr. Mellon then suggested that he thought too much space was being given to the trial. To this Daniell replied:

"I am sure The New York Times will be delighted to give equal space to any statement you may care to make. And we will give it equal prominence in the paper."

A day or two later, the wash sales between Mr. Mellon and his daughter were disclosed, the government charging income tax evasion. Daniell opened his story of these transactions with the following lead:

"When Andrew W. Mellon and his daughter, Ailsa Mellon Bruce, negotiated a business deal, one or another sometimes profited but Uncle Sam almost always lost."

NOTE—Frank Hogan, Mellon's attorney, several times protested against the frankness of Daniell's reporting, but The New York Times congratulated him on his work.

SOUTHPAW BORAH
Senator William Edgar Borah takes a stroll each noonday on the greenward near the capitol, wanders solitary and alone among the perch trees. The other day he picked up some handfuls of snow and playfully threw snowballs, with his right, and then with his left hand.
His aim was bad with both.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

MARCH 6, 1911

The Baraca class of the Southern Methodist church met at the parsonage last night and decided to bring Dr. Small here to deliver his famous lecture, "His Majesty, the Devil." Other business transacted was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: President, E. L. Warner; vice president, Richard Dabbs; secretary-treasurer, John Simmons; teacher, L. A.
West, and chairman of the social committee, Harry Warner.

Among the residents of Santa Ana who were in Los Angeles today were Ashley Turner, who went on business, and Mrs. Horace McPhee who spent the day with her daughter, Mrs. Laurence Bristol.

And still it rains.
For the storm since yesterday morning up to 7 a. m. today, the precipitation was .32 of an inch, bringing the total for the season to 10.60 inches. The official forecast for today says still more rain.

SACRAMENTO—With every member voting, the assembly yesterday adopted Senator Gates' resolution to submit to the people an amendment making possible the recall of all state officials. There were but 10 dissenting votes cast.

There is no money in the county treasury available for an appropriation for advertising the county at the Christian Endeavor convention to be held here in June. The supervisors came to this conclusion after they had considered an application for funds for that purpose.

Women have been scratching for equal rights these many years.
Equal rights with men to make fools of themselves. Equal right to wallow in the muck and stare blear-eyed at the ghastly moon.
Equal right to revel in drunken orgies, to blaspheme High Heaven, to dabble in filth, to drag humanity into bottomless woe.

Bar-tenders object to women standing on the old brass-rail.
Seems they gather in huddles and scurry like mice away. They mooch their drinks, spending hours over a sip or two, drop cigarette ashes on the shining bar, indulge in profanity and vile obscenity such as the toughest guzzler can not stomach. So what can the venders of social decay do to protect themselves from such feminine invasion?

Just why males should object to females doing the dirty things they themselves do is anybody's business.

His Lordship Is Beaten by Woman—Even in Indecency
THE sovereign state of Missouri has mightily disturbed its liquor interests. Decree has gone forth that hereafter women may gulp liquid fire standing up at the bar like men. Dispensers of dizziness have insisted that ladies must be lady-like and take their wallops seated at tables. So the old battle of the bottle wages anew, and the ghost of Carrie Nation is whetting her hatchet again.

This department belongs to The People. Letters to the editor on various subjects are welcomed and will be published, provided they do not contain abusive and personal references. Their publication does not necessarily imply the opinions they express are shared by The

STUDY OF CRIME

To the editor: Every once in a while you or someone else "busts" into print with opinionative expressions regarding the police, crime, courts of law, prisons, the parole question and related subjects. Sometimes these show research and thought and sometimes they do not.

The local library has a good selection of books upon these subjects. Some are by prison wardens, some by practicing criminologists. All are replete with interest, but by far the most authoritative are those written by unbiased and impartial investigators.
These do not expound the personal theories of the writer and a limited and short-sighted attempt at the practical application of those theories, but summarize in ency-clopedic fashion the methods and results of all past and present efforts at crime control.

I would suggest to those interested, and this list might well include every property owner and every honest citizen who through taxes and insurance premiums helps to pay our four billion-dollar annual cost and loss to and through criminals, the reading of such books.

Under modern conditions, city or even state control of crime is impossible. The criminal element itself has far more control of legislation and of law enforcement than has the average political grouping of good citizens.

Sentimentality, humanitarianism, idealism and all other human no-bilities are as useless in dealing with criminals as with rattlesnakes. No real criminal ever reforms. Complete prevention is the only cure for crime. L. D. S.

Some of the boys who have been following the races are becoming acquainted with their business again.

Several of my friends who accept the sun health theory seem to feel that you can get the best results at Palm Springs. One of the boys wrote to a friend about the value of a friendship with violet rays, and when his wife heard about it she went to the Springs the next day to find out about violet.

You can't get something for nothing, but it's amazing how many people are trying it.

Lester Tubbs reports that on three different occasions he has stopped at intersections so as to avoid hitting Mrs. Ann. Further reports unless he gets five gallons of gasoline pretty soon he won't stop. Will the Journal sleuth who is observing the safety rules get in touch with "Les"? I've got a birthday coming and I want to be here to help seven other fellows celebrate it.

Several of my friends have been watching the Mountain View oil field for a number of years. They have acreage in that section. So far I haven't been able to borrow a dollar, which gives me the impression that their particular acreage is still dry. But I'm watching and hoping.

Property owners who maintain downspouts on buildings in alleys should carry damage insurance.
Maybe they do. When a truck enters, if the spout is in good order, when the truck leaves it's a safe bet you can mark the spout
"bad order." There isn't much news in this item, but there is going to be a lot of property owners who will agree with me.

George Githier calls to introduce his friend Wade, who has been in before, and I suggested that maybe it would be getting even if Wade introduced Gunther.
It wouldn't work, though, because George had a prior acquaintance back in Iowa.

Met a friend yesterday who had about decided to give up ranch life.
When I inquired the reason he said the ranch wasn't cooperating. He said it refused to return as much as he spent, and that it wasn't the right attitude. So, in order to indicate that he wasn't satisfied he was going to show his displeasure by casting the property to the four-winds.

Lady friend suggested that we carry the arrival and departure of boats. Well, I'm not going any place, and for a certainty not on a boat, but I haven't any objection to them sailing or arriving. Guess this request should go to the water department.

Business is better, says my friend, Phil Lutz. He's in the tailoring business, so I guess he's got everything pretty well sewed up.

You are supposed to register not later than March 26. You must get your income report in by the 15th of the month, latter part of April last half of the county taxes will be due, along the first of the month the public utility bills will be in your mail box, and the first day of April may cause you more trouble if your memory is poor.
Tax experts will prepare the income tax blank for you, but you better make your own arrangements for the money.

Press report says President Roosevelt was unable to find the studs for his waistcoat. That isn't my trouble. I have trouble finding a waistcoat.

Motorcycle Officers Alan Hershey and George Boyd demonstrate to Ted Stephenson, jr., the thrills of a ride out North Main street. Hershey has been pilot for a motorcycle since 1912. He knows their peculiarities and weather temperaments. They get you places quick—sometimes too quick. That's what "Ted" thought, but how could he prevent it. Boyd smacked him down back of Hershey and before there was any chance to get off, well, that flying trapeze was tied to a post in comparison.
I understand the most satisfactory part of the ride was when it came to an end.

Men have thought themselves rather clever in deviltry. But they find that here, as everywhere, women can get them one better.
The old strongholds, the ivory shop, the pool-hall, the barber shop, the booze joint, resound to the click of tapping heels. The only retreat left for harried males is to behave themselves, forget such childish indulgences as belching smoke and guzzling gin. They must leave such childishness to the women and get back into the realm of decency once more.
